Merchants Will Give Gifts on November 30th

When Santa Claus comes to Canyon on November 30, business houses will add to the interest in the occasion by staging the greatest mass gift offering ever offered in Canyon.

Announcement is made in this issue of The News of the business firms which are offering free gifts to their patrons.

All you have to do is to go to each business firm which is listed, and register for the drawing which will be held in each business house at 2:45 o'clock on Thursday, Nov. 30. Names of the winners will be posted in each business house by 3 o'clock on Nov. 30.

Citizens of Randall county may register in each store listed in the announcement. By this means the same person may win several prizes without going to any trouble except registering.

Old Santa will be in Canyon with his reindeer from 1 o'clock until 2:30 o'clock on the afternoon of Nov. 30. Treats will be provided for all children who are present upon this occasion.

The following will be the program: Congregational singing, Prayer, Rev. Win R. Matsler. Selections by high school band, Herman Demus, director. History of Thanksgiving, Rev. T. Winston Wilbanks. Congregational song. Offertory by band. Anthem by choir, directed by Miss Ada V. Clark.

Unsigned Check for Subscription Has Not Been Identified

No one has come in to sign that check which we hold at the News office.

One of these days some one is going to miss their copy of the Canyon News and wonder why the paper has been stopped. It will be for the simple reason that the unsigned check has not paid the subscription.

Here at the News office we are very grateful for the large response for renewals of subscriptions which we have received. Notices have been mailed to all subscribers whose time will expire in December and January. The December subscribers have one more issue of the paper, before it will be stopped. Postal regulations and good business practices dictate that this must be done.

Thanks a lot, and we hope that you will help us with the heavy rush of the Christmas period by making your renewals promptly. Magazines send their renewal notices out months in advance in order to assist the office force with their heavy work. We hope to have a similar response from all our subscribers.

Recording Has Been Speeded Up by Machine

Tommie Lair will be able to keep up recording of instruments filed in his office in the future. For the past year the force in the County Clerk's office has been running behind with its work.

A new Remington Rand Dextragraph has been installed which makes a photostatic copy of all instruments filed. No longer will the girls in the office be required to spend many weary hours transcribing the instruments by typewriters to the county records, and then proofing their work for errors.

With the Dextragraph, the original instruments are recorded in a few minutes on the record books of the county, just as they are filed. If there are any errors in the instruments, their record will show up on the copies of the books.

Many counties have installed these machines in order to keep up with the heavy work of recording.

This increased business has resulted partially by the large number of oil and gas leases which have been taken up by the major companies during the past few months.

Two Longhorns Are Added To Palo Duro Park

Two longhorn steers have been placed in the pens at the Palo Duro State Park by John McCarty as an added attraction for the thousands of visitors who are visiting this playground during the pleasant fall months.

The longhorns were brought from the JA Ranch near Claremore. They are about 17 years old and have the longest horns that have been seen in this section.

The steers are penned with the three buffalo which were recently brought here from the game preserve in Oklahoma. All of the animals are tame, but visitors are warned to take no chance with them. Colonel Chas. Goodnight would warn visitors on his ranch that they could never trust either a buffalo or a longhorn, as they would likely break into a rage and kill intruders at the slightest provocation.

McCarty is highly elated over the arrival of Annie Conejo Pinto, or the Spotted Rabbit, the spotted colt which was born to Maude a week ago. The colt is creating much excitement among visitors at the Park.

While there is nothing new to report on the highway situation in the Park, McCarty is still hopeful that a contract will be let in December for this much needed improvement.

Coming soon to Olympic, Gary Cooper in "DALLAS."

Buffaloes Accepted Bid to Sun Bowl Game With Cincinnati

The Buffalo football squad has accepted the invitation of the Sun Bowl authorities at El Paso to play the New Year football game in that city. As winners of the Border Conference, the Buffs will play host upon this occasion. The Buff squad voted unanimously Tuesday afternoon to accept the invitation to El Paso. The squad will not be playing under strange conditions, having defeated Texas Western there on Nov. 4.

The University of Cincinnati will be the opponents of the Buffs. This team has defeated both Texas Western and Hardin-Simmons in early season games. The two teams will be pretty evenly matched, judging from comparative scores.

The Buffalo squad will leave by plane Friday morning for Corpus Christi to meet the University of Corpus Christi in the last game of the regular season. Very little is known of the strength of the opponents of the Buffs, who have come through the season with only one defeat. Trinity defeated Corpus last Saturday while the Buffs were defeating Hardin-Simmons.

Trinity was the only team to defeat the Buffs this season, winning by a fluke.

Coach Frank Kimbrough gave his team a rest Monday after the hard game with Hardin-Simmons on Saturday. He will take the boys on a deep sea fishing trip Friday afternoon.

Kimbrough stated that upon return to Canyon he will give the boys two weeks off before starting in preparation for the New Year game to be played in El Paso.

Plans Approved For Building of First National

Contractors of this section are figuring the cost of the new building of the First National Bank. The plans were approved Thursday by the Board of Directors and specifications were turned over to the contractors Saturday.

Orders for the brick and steel were placed three weeks ago, and these should be received without undue delay, according to the architects.

The bids will be opened on Friday, Dec. 8th. If one of the bids is accepted, it is planned to have the building under construction by the first of the year.

Program of Music Is Given Tuesday at Rotary Luncheon

Bill Wilson was in charge of the Rotary Club program Tuesday and presented a program of music.

The Rotary Quartet, composed of Wilson, Dr. Chas. Nester, Crannell Tolliver and J. B. Roberts, introduced the program with a group of songs.

Featured on the program was Mrs. Wilson, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ples Harper.

The quartet, assisted by Mrs. Wilson, closed the program.

The following were the guests: Norman E. Moore, Bill Wolfe, N. E. Milburn, Carl Dundeen, Richard Barnard, all of Hereford; Spencer L. Baird, C. W. Seible, Joe C. Rogers, J. H. Brown, all of Amarillo.

Decorations For Christmas Placed Top Court House

The Canyon Chamber of Commerce sponsors Christmas decorations in Canyon, and started the decoration plan by erecting Biblical characters on top of the court house Tuesday afternoon. Lights will play on these figures.

Street lighting will be erected on the streets as in the past.

The home decorations contest will be continued as in past years. It is hoped that more citizens will enter the contest this year than have entered in years past.

Coming soon to Olympic "KING SOLOMON'S MINES." Actually filmed in Africa!

Duflot Lost in Appeal Over the Damage of Lot

J. L. Duflot lost his appeal Tuesday night over the decision of the jury of view for an increased value of the land which the state demanded in widening Highway 87 through Canyon.

Duflot was awarded damages in the sum of $850 by the jury; the City Commission offered to raise this amount to $1250 in order to secure a quick settlement; the jury in County Court Tuesday night gave Duflot damages in the sum of $850.

The case has been pending in court for several weeks, and was one of the hardest fought legal battles that court officials have witnessed. Duflot was represented by Branch Archer and Otis Trulove; while the city was represented by Ben Monning, and G. B. Heath, special representative of the city who had handled all of the highway widening problems.

Notice of appeal to the Court of Civil Appeals was made Tuesday night by Duflot. During the trial no specific amount of damage was claimed. In widening the highway, Duflot will give a 15-foot strip of land, together with a hedge along the pavement.

No other property owner has taken an appeal for damages to his property along the highway through Canyon, and settlement has been made by the city with all property owners, excepting one.

"The Wizard of Oz" to be Produced by Children's Theatre

"The Wizard of Oz," the story of a little girl's adventures in the wonderful land of Oz, has been selected for the first production of the Canyon's Children's Theatre, according to director Carl Michell.

Such characters as the Tin Woodsman, the Lion, the Scarecrow, the good and bad witches, all play a part in the strange adventure that Dorothy finds in the land of Oz.

Tentative casting for the play has been made, and the production date scheduled for late in January.

Assisting Carl Michell will be Barbara Gaither, junior speech major from Amarillo, and Bill Brooker, senior speech major from Borger. Brooks is designing the show and directing the dance sequences.

Thanksgiving Day Brings Us Much to Return Thanks

This is Thanksgiving. It is the annual time when Americans are asked to get together and think about their blessings and the pleasures that we enjoy as citizens of a great and mighty nation.

In recent months the attention of the nation has been directed more to the short-comings of our nation than it has to the blessings of our country. An election always produces criticisms. It is time that we stop for a moment and reflect once more upon the other side of the picture.

In spite of the handicaps of our Republic, there is no nation on the face of the earth so greatly blessed as our America. All of us should stop and think as to these blessings, and what we would be without them.

In this nation are stored the greatest reserve of the minerals and soils, and bountiful natural resources that are to be found on the face of the earth. We have the greatest government of any of the nations. Our government is performing just about the type of services which a majority of the citizenship wish performed. If we do not like our present government we can go to the polls and demand a change. In no other nation are the citizens free to express their thoughts and to march to the polls to vote as they please.

While our forefathers set aside this day of thanksgiving to the kind providence which gave them health and protection in a rugged pioneer world, we of 1950 have cause to thank the same providence for the same protection; for the same good health, which has extended the span of life during the years; for a nation which is thoughtful of its citizens; and a government which is seeking to continue the high standards of a free people.

Enjoy your Thanksgiving Day. Perhaps few of us realize the terrible plight which might be our lot without the protection of this kind providence.

Depression Stuff Is Being Made By Inflation of Land

We note that an unimproved 80 acre farm in Illinois was sold recently to a couple as an investment for $545 per acre, or $43,600.

Just what kind of an investment this will be no one has dared state. It looks like it was an investment in the making of another depression.

The farm would have to produce around $40 per acre annually in order to return a minimum of 6% to the new owners. Add to this the cost of production and you soar to astronomical heights.

We recall that in the 20's land in the middle west sold at $250 to $400 per acre. After the boom days that same land sold at $40 to $50 per acre, and the path of wrecked lives and fortunes was terrible to contemplate.

Are we building up for another such crash?

President Truman said that the income of an average family will soon soar to $12,000 per year. Will the rubber in our dollars stretch that far?

Mailing Early Is No Joke in 1950 or Any Other Year

It may be a rather trite appeal, but after all, most folks realize the necessity of shopping early and mailing their packages early.

1950 will see the heaviest mail in the history of the nation.

We have unprecedented prosperity, in spite of present inflation which makes one wonder whether or not it is real prosperity.

Folks are going to spend dollars whether they be rubber or real dollars.

It will be the wise person who is not caught in the final rush of Christmas shopping, or lets the time slip by so that his package is late in reaching its destination.

Another Commie Trick? ? ?

We just wonder? Did the Chinese commies dash across the line in Korea and then retreat for the purpose of causing our troops to blow up the big power plant, and inflicting billions of dollars in losses on America.

The commies in Moscow are set out to bleed us white; piling up war damages for us to pay off, would be an easy way. We shall pay, regardless of who wins what.

Senator Lyndon Johnson is digging up evidence as to the foolishness of disposing of war surplus material. He cites as evidence the sale of $1,209,600 computers for 5 cents each. These cost the government $7,200 each. He resold the batch for $63,000. The bunch cost him $6.89, plus $4,000 storage and crating. Rather neat profit on a silly deal.

Another example of private enterprise is the 48,000-ton liner, United States, now under construction with the government paying the major share of its cost.

Under the equality theory it is wrong for 150,000,000 Americans to possess more of the world's goods than an equal number of Chinese, Africans or Indians.

The democratic nations of the earth, it appears, will have to decide whether the Japs and the Germans are worse than the Chinese and the Russians.

The general welfare, of ancient reverence in the nation, takes an awful beating from those who promote, by vote or otherwise, selfish interests.

First thing you know our system of education will be so good that children will have to educate their relatively ignorant parents.

The hunting season approaches but, so far, nobody has done anything about the guy who shoots when the bushes move.

With the world's greatest production machinery the U. S. continues to protect "infant industries" from competition.

The leaders of the nation may soon have to decide whether to use atomic bombs against the Chinese.

There is no limit to the amount of good the people of Randall County could do if they would just do it.

Getting Drunk Is a Poor Way To Celebrate at Any Time

Getting drunk on a holiday, or at any other time, is a poor way to show our appreciation of the greatness of America. Yet we have too many folks who have the idea that getting drunk is the proper method of celebration, whether it be Thanksgiving, Christmas, Fourth of July, a baseball victory, a football game, or any other local or national triumph.

A speaker in Canyon last week said there were enough church members in Texas in just two denominations, the Baptist and Methodist Churches, to vote Texas dry if all of the members really wanted to oust liquor.

We recall the sage warnings of a citizen of Canyon years ago when he remarked that the nation would never be dry so long as church members continued drinking liquor, and going on the bonds of criminals who were caught in crime because of liquor.

The liquor interests are putting out reams of propaganda, telling the folks how much revenue is paid by liquor; but they fail to tell the whole story. They refuse to add up the misery which liquor brings to the homes of America; the billions of dollars in cost of car wrecks by liquor; the thousands of persons killed weekly on the highways because of liquor; the gambling joints and houses of prostitution which are backed by the liquor interests.

Texas will likely be given a chance to pass upon another constitutional amendment banning liquor from the state. Of course the liquor interests will tell you that it cannot be enforced; that it costs too much; but they will fail to tell you that a determined people may accomplish anything that they set out to do.

"Mr. Republican" Is Friend of Laboring Man After All

Senator Robert Taft is called "Mr. Republican." No doubt he will continue in the role of policy maker for GOP. He said the other day that he would make no effort to win the nomination for President in 1952, but would accept if called upon.

The Democrats of Ohio are crying out that Taft bought the nomination. That is the usual battlecry of the underdog in any campaign. Taft had the financial support of many Americans outside the state of Ohio, but this does not mean that he had "millions" to squander.

Probably the greatest support came from the fact that laboring men in Ohio decided that he was not such a bad friend after all. Considering the sappy opponent who was running against Taft, the half-million majority was not such an outstanding victory.

Taft has announced that he will propose amendments to the Taft-Hartley law, which will remove some of the obnoxious objections of labor to the law. All in all, we have a safe and sane GOP leader in Congress. (Perhaps a lot of good Democrats in the 18th Congressional District are still convinced that the only good GOPers are dead ones).

United Nations Must Succeed Or America Will Be Sunk

When we get to thinking and wondering about the future of the United Nations, we always come up with one answer and one only—United Nations must live—or else.

It's a big order to declare that UN is a success. But all of us like to think that it is making headway toward a successful goal, in spite of the many reverses.

Russia is making no attempt to see that UN is a success. It would seem that Russia would prefer to see this organization a failure than anything else in the world. This is a part of her plan to make UN fail.

In spite of all its weaknesses, and in spite of the handicaps under which it is operating, UN must go forward, or we, as a nation, will be sunk.

Political Predictions Failed

We have just finished looking over "The International Teamster" for November, 1950. It was published just before the general election for the purpose of keeping the teamsters in line for a Truman victory at the polls.

Daniel J. Tobin, great friend of FDR, is publisher. His political guesses were bad, since practically all of the national figures which he supported were defeated.

Jimmy Got the Ax in Neck

We were rather amused in looking over an edition of The Canyon News of one year ago. The heading was "Roosevelt vs. Roosevelt" in 1952. Well the voters of California have taken care of half of this team.

Jimmy was run over and lost as a potential Democratic candidate.

In its history, Hereford has had two cases of picketing. Local citizens handled both of these cases with neatness and dispatch. Good work, friends! Why should any person be deprived of work by some other guy in another line of work, who wants to strike?

The jurors of any county can contribute to law and order by bringing in verdicts of guilty whenever the evidence is convincing regardless of sympathy for the defendant.

Why read the newspapers or any books? After all, you can learn everything by listening to the rumors, reports and gossips that fill the air.

Corporate profits, if anybody wants to know, are breaking all records despite the "drift of Socialism" which the orators so often decry.

Probably the greatest punishment for warfare between the nations is the flock of super-patriots that seek to guide the world thereafter.

If people would intelligently give what they foolishly spend there would be no social problems in the United States.

All children of Randall county are expected in Canyon on Nov. 30 to greet Santa Claus. Be sure to be on hand.

The nation, it seems, is cluttered up with magazines of the trashy type.

Not being a woodsman we have no axe and, therefore, no reason to grind it.

Sigs' Annual ASMAR Production Will Be Staged November 29

Beginning with an old-time minstrel, brought up to date, and ending with a modern revue, the Alpha Sigma Xi Fraternity will represent on Wednesday, November 29 its fifth annual ASMAR in the Administration Building Auditorium, beginning at 8:00 o'clock.

ASMAR this year is being directed by Bill Brooks, senior from Amarillo and a speech major. The program will feature talent from the campus, and from the city of Canyon and Amarillo.

Mr. Interlocutor for the show will be Jim Short of Amarillo who is a graduate of WT and was also a member of Alpha Sigma Xi.

End men for this year's show will be Chock Van Pelt, T. W. Perkins, James "Red" Morgan, and Don Hickman. Jokes, both old and new will be furnished by them. To help them spark the evening's entertainment will be a chorus line and a quartet, the Squeaking Door Four. The quartet will sing two numbers and their voices will add vitality to that of the chorus as they sing old minstrel favorites. A Jolson imitation will be given by Bill Davis.

Besides songs and dances for the minstrel there will be short comedy skits and acts.

Appearing on the minstrel will be Pat Cantrell, Bobby Tucker, Betty

Naylor, Charlotte Stevens, June Gilbert, Polly Caperton, Jan Travis, Nadine Pierce, Leta Dene Springer and Darlene Terry.

Vocal solos will be given by Juanita Jo Broadway, Cathy Cintron, Thelma Fulton and Joan Shockley.

Providing the acrobatics will be June Powell. Donna Erwin will play a piano solo.

A song and dance comedy act will be presented by Esther Harkleroad. Gene Hubbard and Jack Stone will do a soft-shoe dance. Imitations of popular singers will be given by James Gamblin.

The Collegians will furnish music for the revue. Accompanist for the vocal numbers is H. R. Fulton, ex-member of Alpha Sigma Xi.

Script for the show was written by Jim Short and T. W. Perkins. Stage managers are Dub Clement and Joe Davis. Bill Davis, Bill Boston and Bob Naylor are musical directors and Dee Osborne and Joe Walker are lighting technicians.

Admission to the show will be 50 and 75 cents.

THANKSGIVING - 1950

FACED BY THE THREAT OF AGGRESSION, THE FREE PEOPLES ALL OVER THE WORLD MAY WELL SHARE IN THE OBSERVANCE OF AMERICA'S THANKSGIVING THIS YEAR—GIVING THANKS FOR STRENGTH, FOR UNITY OF PURPOSE AND DETERMINATION AND FOR THE GROWING SPIRIT OF COOPERATION THAT IS FUSING THEIR INDIVIDUAL STRENGTHS INTO A POWERFUL FORCE FOR THE PRESERVATION OF FREEDOM.

CIGARETTES

Americans are now consuming 400,000,000,000 cigarettes a year, according to a tobacco official, who figures out that this is roughly 2,667 for every man, woman and child—or 133 packs per year and two and a half packs per week.

"R-DAY"

Communists in the United States ignored the U. S. "R" Day, refusing to register under the new anti-Communist law, which was passed by Congress on September 23, which requires Communists and Communist-front organizations to register with the Justice Department or face penalties up to $10,000 fine or five years in jail.

Friends of Dean Acheson indicate that he is not interested in any deal that would place him upon the Supreme Court to make way for a successor at the Department of State. If a change comes, Secretary Acheson would go back to his law practice.

John Foster Dulles, U. S. delegate to the United Nations, is No. 1 on the list of Republicans who might become Secretary of State if the President does yield to pressure to give a non-party flavor to foreign policy.

THANKSGIVING

On the First Thanksgiving Day, the Pilgrims offered thanks for the preservation of their lives and the happiness which resulted from a good crop.

Today we have many more things for which we can be thankful — friends, neighbors, freedom of thought and action, and freedom of worship.

This Canyon firm is very thankful for the splendid business that you have given us, and we trust that we shall have contributed much to the blessings of your Thanksgiving through the services we have rendered.

An Average American Family Celebrates Thanksgiving

Dad, standing there in front of that sixteen pound bird, is not a railroad president or a banker; he is a skilled workman in a factory and mighty proud of his job. Mother cooked the dinner singlehanded without maid or hired girl; but her kitchen is a marvel of efficiency, with a General Electric range, refrigerator, home freezer, dishwasher and other appliances. Jack, sitting next to Grandma, is home from the state university.

We would be the last to say that there is no want or poverty in the United States. But more and more ordinary folks each year can look at a picture like this and say, "That's MY family!" That's what makes America. For this is an average family's idea of America and they mean to hold on to it. Kremlin please take notice.

MINER'S OUTPUT

The hourly output for each man in the nation's mines more than doubled between 1915 and 1950, due primarily to the introduction of machinery and the growing trend toward digging coal, iron and even nonferrous metals from open pits or surface "strip" mines, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics. Machines cut more than 90 per cent of the total output of bituminous coal last year.

CONTROLS

Senator Humphrey (D., Minn.) has called for an immediate "temporary price stop," steps to control wages and an early $10,000,000,000 to $15,000,000,000 tax boost, as necessary to clamp an emergency lid on living costs which are rocketing toward inflation. He also urged an excess profits tax on corporation earnings, retroactive to July 1.

Union leaders are not entirely happy over the appointment of Mrs. Rosenberg to head the Defense Department's man-power setup. She is friendly to labor but is not a union official. When labor leaders talk of getting a voice in defense agencies, they mean one of their own number, not a friendly outsider.

Senator Wayne Morse, of Oregon, who would like a place on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, is getting the cold shoulder from regular Republicans. They think that Mr. Morse is too close to the "Fair Deal" to be truly bipartisan.

Intelligence reports from Paris say that the French Army still has 200 officers who are Communists and that five are colonels, commanding regiments on active duty. These reports are somewhat upsetting to U. S. defense officials who have been assured by the French Government that Communist officers will not get their hands on arms the U. S. delivers to France.

Announcement by Economic Cooperation Administration of dollar loans to Spain is timed to pave the way for Congress to approve a dollar grant to Tito of Yugoslavia. Administration officials are convinced that aid to Yugoslavia could not gain approval unless some gesture were made toward Spain.

Walter J. Kohler, Jr., newly elected Republican Governor of Wisconsin, is being mentioned by some Wisconsin Republicans as a possible opponent of Senator Joseph McCarthy in the 1952 primaries. The Kohler supporters disapprove of some of Senator McCarthy's methods.

Religion And Life Speaker Named

DR. HUSTON SMITH

The 1950 Religion and Life lectures, by Dr. Huston Smith of Washington University, St. Louis, will begin Tuesday, December 5, and continue through Thursday.

Dr. Smith, who has lectured on the campus in previous years, will speak to both student and civic groups while in Canyon. Required assembly "Religion and Life Week" will be held on Tuesday, so that most of the students will be able to hear him in his first address.

At Washington University, Dr. Smith is employed to develop all the agencies of religion on the campus of the school in such a way as to contribute most to the religious maturity and religious action of the individuals and groups.

The purpose of the Religious and Life lectures here is to broaden and deepen the religious insights of students. It is believed that this will result in added appreciation of the church to which each individual belongs and of the importance of Christian ideas and ideals in the world today.

WT Rodeo Team Takes 3 Places

Members of the Rodeo Team invaded Kingsville November 8 to attend the A. & I. Rodeo. They returned Sunday night with a total of nineteen points to boost the team's average to 1.154 points.

Roy Reynolds, Canyon senior, won second in calf-roping and third in ribbon roping. This will aid his chances of becoming All Around Cowboy. He is third in this contest. Keith Crawford, senior from Channing, won fourth in saddle bronc riding, and is also fourth in National average.

The winners were accompanied by Billy Paul Skaggs, senior from Oklahoma City, and Jim Weatherby.

TAX COLLECTIONS

Tax collections during July, August and September were $9,690,711.105, or $245,324.254 more than in the same period last year. Individual income taxes at a $3,897,892,566 total were $229,561,815 higher than in the corresponding first quarter of the last fiscal year, according to the Internal Revenue Department.

WEATHER

Since October 10, a mid-autumn heat wave, described by the Weather Bureau as one of the "most intense in history for late October," brought record-high temperatures in scores of cities from coast to coast. And more of the same is in prospect, the bureau declares.

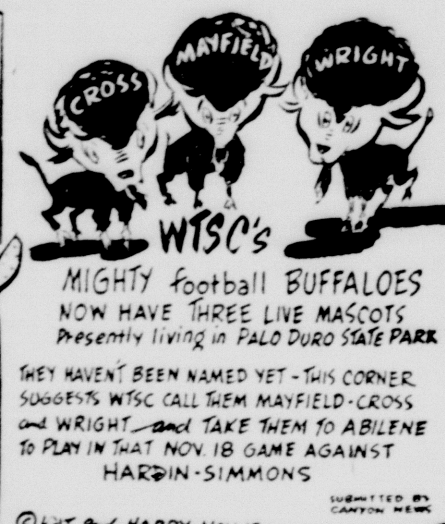

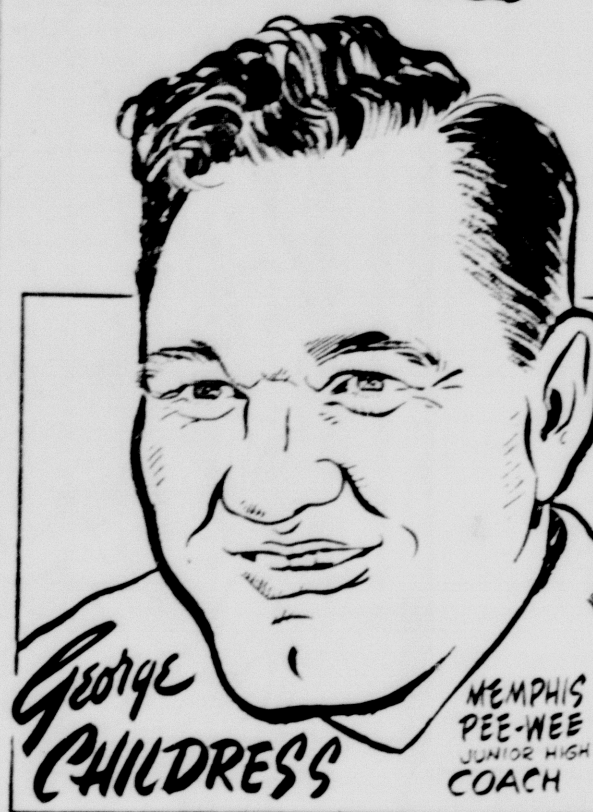

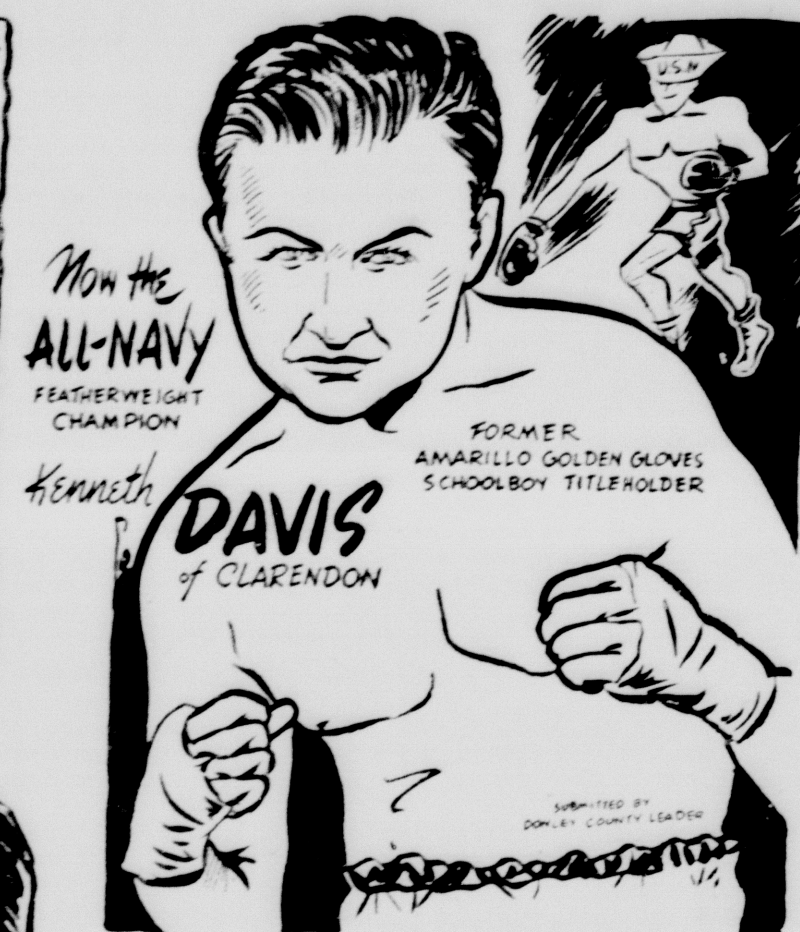

Fred Vinson, Chief Justice of the U. S., who would give a "new look" to the Department of State if named Secretary, is unlikely to be interested in stepping down from the Court unless assured the Democratic presidential nomination in 1952. Mr. Truman now is pictured as more determined than ever to run again in 1952.

President Truman is to come under strong pressure to name a Republican to succeed Dean Acheson as Secretary of State. Averell Harriman, White House assistant who has some claim on the job, would run into many of the same troubles with Congress that Mr. Acheson faces.

THANKSGIVING IS AN AMERICAN HABIT

America without Thanksgiving is like America without its brilliant, colorful autumns or the first white touch of snow that lies like a benediction on its rich fields. America without Thanksgiving is like America without its deep awareness of hearth and home and family, its laughter and love. Thanksgiving is the most meaningful of our truly American holidays. Let us preserve it always.

"WHAT D'YA MEAN... MORE PAYLOAD?"

DODGE "Job-Rated" trucks GIVE IT TO YOU!

IT'S A MATTER OF better weight distribution

You can haul more payload than ever in a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck, because the load is better distributed. Most trucks carry too much of the load on the rear axle—too little on the front. Because the engine of a Dodge "Job-Rated" truck is moved forward and the front axle back, both axles carry the right proportion of the load. That means you can haul bigger payloads without overloading.

NOT THIS The payload on most trucks—like the girl in this boat—rides too far to the rear. Result: there's too much weight aft, not enough forward.

BUT THIS In "Job-Rated" trucks, the load is moved forward—as the girl is now positioned. Results: proper weight distribution—bigger payloads—easier handling.

NEW! gyro FLUID DRIVE! Available on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models... for longer truck life, lower upkeep costs. Ask us for interesting Fluid Drive booklet.

Job-Rated ...for low-cost transportation

POWER: ... 8 great truck engines—each "Job-Rated" for PLUS power.

ECONOMY: ... priced with the lowest "Job-Rated" for dependability and long life.

BIGGER PAYLOADS: ... carry more without overloading axles or springs because of "Job-Rated" weight distribution.

EASIER HANDLING: ... sharp turning! Parks in tight places. "Job-Rated" maneuverability!

COMFORT: ... widest seats ... windshield with best vision of any popular truck. Air-cushioned, adjustable "chair-height" seats.

SAFETY: ... finest truck brakes in the industry ... hand brake operating independently on propeller shaft on all models—1/2-ton and up.

Mr. Dan Goldsmith, 3024 Curron Road, Louisville, Ky., owner of Coogla Cut Rate Store at 935 West Broadway, says there just aren't enough words in the English language to praise HADACOL correctly. He says he knows most folks don't realize what a change HADACOL can make in their life if their systems are deficient in Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin.

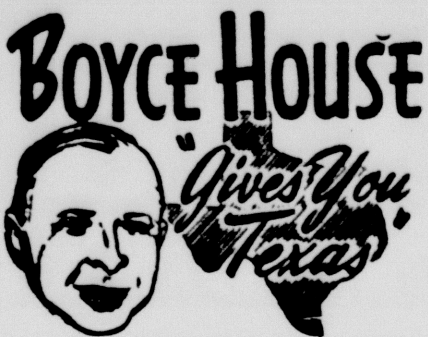

Here is Mr. Goldsmith's statement: "Before I started taking HADACOL I was run down and nervous—and had a hard time sleeping nights. With my work in the store I have to spend sometimes 14 hours a day on my feet. Since I am in the retail business I saw how many folks were asking for HADACOL so I decided to try it myself. After the first couple of bottles I could tell a definite improvement. Now I have all the pep and energy in the world, my nerves are steady as ever and I really do get a good night's rest. HADACOL is wonderful—I not only take it, but recommend it to all my customers. I praise the day Senator Dudley J. LeBlanc put HADACOL on the market."

HADACOL Is So Different
Thousands are benefiting from HADACOL... whose systems lack Vitamins B₁, B₂, Iron and Niacin. HADACOL is so wonderful because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these great Vitamins and Minerals to every body organ—to every part of the body.

Give remarkable HADACOL a chance and if you don't feel better with the first few bottles you take—you get your money back. Only $1.25 for Trial Size; Large Family or Hospital Size, $3.50. If your druggist does not have HADACOL, order it direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, Louisiana.

Much study is a weariness of the flesh.—Ecclesiastes 12: 12.

How about a true story about a pioneer Texan whose fast thinking saved his life? Down near Austin is a beautiful spot; it is called Barton's Spring and was named "Old Man Barton," as everybody called him.

One day, he was walking through the forest not far from his home when he saw five or six Indians. They saw him at the same time and they began chasing him. They were on foot too and it was quite a race.

But Barton was no longer young and his strength was just about to give out. He had reached the top of a hill and down in the valley below was his log cabin home. It had never looked sweeter to him than it did now when it seemed that life was about to end. His pack of dogs caught sight of him and they came rushing toward him. And that gave Old Man Barton an idea. He turned around, facing the Indians, who were running toward him and of course could not see what was on the other side of the hill, and he took his old hat in his hand and yelled, "Come on, boys; let's git them redskins."

The Indians, thinking that he was calling to a bunch of Texans with their rifles, turned and ran away. His nerve and his fast thinking had saved the pioneer's life.

The Whitewright Sun has dug up that old time sketch in which an editor tells how he whipped an indignant subscriber. The editor makes use of the editorial "we" in speaking of himself—

"There was a blow; somebody fell. We got up. Turning upon our antagonist, we succeeded in winding his arms around our waist and, by a quick maneuver, threw him on top of us, bringing our back at the same time in contact with the solid bed of the printing press. Then, inserting our nose between his teeth and cleverly entangling his hands in our hair, we had him."

DILEMMA
Some people can't do their Christmas shopping early because they don't know who their friends will be by holiday time.

Florence Bates, actress: "One of the greatest sources of unhappiness for women is the constant struggle to look younger."

Harry S. Truman: "The special interests are just as bad for business as they are for the rest of the country."

Now, We Give Thee Thanks...

We give thanks that mankind, under Divine guidance, continues to prosper . . . that despite war and tyranny in his midst man remembers the sick and the afflicted and is good to them . . . that he toils to learn compassion and love. We give thanks that all man's worldly achievements have not caused him to lose sight of the goodness of the Lord . . . and that in the midst of pride and power as in the midst of desolation, he looks not at his own works or image but to the Lord whence cometh his inspiration and his strength.

Truman Backs Down on Early Call for Congress—Not Prog.

President Truman indicates that he will not call Congress back to work earlier than the adjournment day set, as there was so much opposition to his plan to put the lawmakers to work earlier than agreed upon.

However, the President indicated that he is still for his so-called Fair Deal program and will present it to the January session of the new Congress.

While demanding the re-enactment of the excess profits tax, it is practically assured that Congress will not heed the demands of the President.

New Drug Cuts Treatment Cost Of Arthritis

NEWARK, N. J.—What is proving to be a revolutionary new development in the treatment of rheumatoid arthritis was disclosed in a report just published in the Journal of Clinical Endocrinology.

Five scientists discovered that when insulin, the drug used in diabetes, is given simultaneously with cortisone, very much smaller doses of cortisone than heretofore used may be effective. This combination was reported to produce the same degree of relief in arthritis as when cortisone is used alone in the customary large doses.

The new treatment reduced the quantity of the scarce new "miracle drug" used. Thus, the method enables the doctors to cut the cost per day for treating hospitalized arthritis patients with cortisone from $12 to as little as $3 each, the report said.

Cost of Drug Cut

Cortisone is the adrenal compound reported by Drs. Hench and Kendall, of the Mayo Clinic, a little more than a year ago as producing spectacular improvement in rheumatoid arthritis. Its use in medicine has been handicapped, the scientists explained, by its potential dangers and the extremely high cost of treatment.

The principle of using insulin together with cortisone was developed by Dr. Edward Henderson, director of the clinical research division of Schering Corporation, Bloomfield, N. J., and by Dr. Marvin Weinberg, his associate, on the basis of animal and laboratory experiments conducted at the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Columbia University by a third member of the Schering team, Dr. Harry Seneca.

The work was done through the cooperation of Dr. George C. Schicks, Director of St. Barnabas Hospital, Newark, N. J., and Dr. John W. Gray, distinguished rheumatologist and Director of the Arthritis Clinic at St. Barnabas, and his associate, Dr. Evelyn Z. Merrick.

Intense interest has focused on the cortisone treatment of arthritis for over a year since it was first announced at the Mayo Clinic, but physicians have been handicapped by the limited supply of the drug, its prohibitively high cost, and certain unfortunate side effects which develop incidental to the treatment, when large doses of cortisone are used. Many efforts have been made to produce the drug in larger quantities and at lower cost, but prior to the St. Barnabas research nothing had been done to make smaller quantities of the drug serve the purpose.

12 Patients Studied

The research workers have stated that the new method does not merely cut the cost of treatment to one-half or less, but also offers a means of avoiding some of the dangerous actions of the drug, very familiar to physicians who have had experience with cortisone. In addition, it the cost of treatment finally within reach of the majority of arthritis sufferers.

Twelve patients with typical rheumatoid arthritis were hospitalized in the St. Barnabas Hospital for this study. Some were early cases and some were chronic cases of 20 years standing with far advanced arthritis.

Shamefaced Detroit Plans Memorial to Young Soldier

DETROIT, Mich.—The city of Detroit, ashamed of itself for forgetting to honor the first American soldier brought home from Korea for burial at home, got busy and planned a perpetual memorial for him.

The soldier, Pvt. John Marruso, 19, died of wounds received in Korea. Only 20 persons attended his funeral and there were no proper honors, only a makeshift tribute.

Ashamed of the slight, Mayor Albert E. Cobo immediately ordered the city's flags at half staff. The park superintendent offered to dedicate a new recreation site to Marruso. And plans for a permanent memorial were started.

Mrs. Lena Marusso, Johnny's mother, was not offended by the slight. She said, "Johnny, he was awfully young to go. It would be nice if Detroit would do something to remember him."

4,000-Year-Old Stone Axe Factory Found in England

LONDON—An archaeological society reports that excavations in England have uncovered a stone-axe factory that existed nearly 4,000 years ago.

The society said that a large factory, which produced weapons and instruments that were traded all over the country and across the Irish sea, once existed in the Langdale valley.

Because of the altitude of the factory, 2,500 feet, it is presumed that the hewing of the rock took place in the late spring or summer, the rough material being carried away to be finished sometime during the winter at a more permanent settlement beyond the valley.

Strictly functional house unlivable, says architecture dean.

BootleggingCity Sells the Right

YAZOO CITY, Miss.—For the first time in history it has been admitted that a city and local bootleggers have reached an agreement whereby the bootleggers can operate.

An official agreement between the Yazoo City council and bootleggers has been reached under which the whiskey salesmen operate by paying one $100 fine a month.

Acting Mayor P. J. Wallen said, "Yes, that's right. The agreement was made."

"Unless something unforeseen happens I don't think we'll make any change in it. We're going to try and get ourselves some revenue from it."

Newsman Hunting For Ghost Report Something Found

LOCK HAVEN, Pa.—Maybe you believe in ghosts and maybe you don't, but a reporter and a photographer for the Lock Haven Express, who checked on a legend that the headless Frenchman of Kettle creek still roams those parts, won't say yes or no.

Legend has it that the ghost belongs to a French explorer who robbed a secret cave of Indian silver some centuries ago. The Indians, it seemed, avenged their loss by beheading the Frenchman.

Reporter Pete Stevenson and photographer Jim Patterson set out to track down the ghost.

On a chilly, misty night they parked their car near a bridge spanning Kettle creek at Road Hollow. As they sat waiting, the only sound filling the night air was that of the distant pounding of a gas well drill working the night shift.

Suddenly a flickering, wavering form reared up less than 100 feet away. They edged toward the reddish white figure for a better look. A sound like that of a low, almost painful, moan could be heard. The figure glided away, up the bank and onto Road Hollow. It moved quickly in the faint moonlight. They ran to keep it in sight, but the headless Frenchman was gone.

Some say the Frenchman still roams the wilds of Clinton county looking for his head.

Some scientifically inclined folk scoff at the legend. They say the moan is nothing but methane gas seeping from crevices. A forest ranger offered the suggestion that the ghostlike figure is caused by glowing phosphorus clinging to moss and rotten logs in the damp woods.

And then there's the story of the silver. Woodsman Harry Walters showed Stevenson and Patterson a piece of silver the size of a golf ball. He said he found it in the woods. And there's a lot more of the Indian silver around, he said. Disbelievers had an answer for that too. They suggest it's some manner of ore that has become silverized over the years.

Maybe so, and then again, maybe not.

New Device Keeps Food Fresh for Many Years

CHICAGO—A new device that keeps food fresh for years has been demonstrated to the American chemical society.

It is a sterilizing gun that keeps raw or cooked meats and vegetables fresh and appetizing for at least four years.

It fires electrons, negatively charged particles. It does its sterilizing job in a millionth of a second.

Meat, fish, vegetables, fruits and dairy products are sterilized without changing their enzymes, chemical agent that promotes life processes.

The enzymes once were thought, erroneously, to be the cause of spoiling food. The electrons kill the tiny organisms that cause spoilage.

The foods have stayed fresh and tasty, in sealed containers, for as long as four years so far. The electron bombardment is done with a machine called a capacitors.

The electron treatment also can sterilize drugs and produce effective vaccines. One vaccine made this way is highly potent against rabies. The beam of electrons kills the virus causing the disease, but does not damage the virus' ability to produce antibodies.

Calvin Coolidge Sauced Coffee for His Favorite Dog

WASHINGTON—One morning, at the White House, Calvin Coolidge was dining with a distinguished visitor. When the coffee was served, Mr. Coolidge poured it into a saucer and blew on it.

The visitor, somewhat puzzled, did likewise. The President then added milk and sugar. The guest, thoroughly bewildered, went through the same motions. A moment later he turned red with embarrassment when Mr. Coolidge bent down and placed the saucer on the floor for his dog.

Two Party Lineup From Counties Is Given Endorsement

The Newsman has received a letter from a citizen of Stamford proposing that he lead the movement to put out a Republican ticket for each and every county office in West Texas. The writer thinks that the big vote for Ben Guill indicates that the people are ready for the two party system in Texas.

We decline with thanks. We are getting too old and have too much political experience to wish to become a crusader for the Republican party, or any other party against the terrible odds of such a movement in Texas.

Which reminds us: Talked with a substantial citizen of Randall county the other day who was giving Truman down the river, and cussing everything that the Democrats were doing in Washington. When asked how he voted for Congressman the old boy admitted that while he opposed the Truman administration, he had voted for Rogers.

Horns of "Old Blue" Repose in Panhandle-Plains Museum, Canyon

There were, many years ago, thousands of Longhorns in Texas. In any group so large there are bound to be some that stand out above the rest as distinct individuals. Old Blue, sometimes known as "Blue the Bell Ox," was one of the most outstanding of the lot.

Blue was calved in the spring of 1870 near the Texas coast, and was four years old before anyone paid any attention to the big blue steer.

About 1874, Charles Goodnight, owner of the famous JA ranch, bought a string of about 5,000, split them into two herds and started them on the trail to Colorado. Blue was in the first herd and every morning took his place at the point of his herd and held his position all day. He was a powerful steer and a steady lead for the herd. He was beginning to show his individuality.

In the summer of 1876, Goodnight decided to move the cattle back to the Texas Panhandle, in what is now part of the Palo Duro Canyon. Within ten years Goodnight had over 75,000 cattle and Old Blue was the most outstanding animal in the Panhandle.

The outlet for cattle from this region was Dodge City, about 250 miles north. In October 1878, Goodnight started a herd of about 1,000 toward Dodge City with Old Blue in the lead. He was the first steer to wear a bell, and he seemed to become more proud and individualistic when it was hung around his neck.

The herd soon learned to follow the sound of the bell. When the herd stopped, one of the hands would throw a rope over Blue's horn, walk to him and tie the clapper. When it was time to move again Blue would walk up to one of the hands at the point of the herd to have the clapper untied.

When travel was over for the day, Blue considered himself completely above the rest of the herd. He would come into camp and eat what food the cook would give him and what the hands could steal for him. When he bedded down for the night he was well away from the herd. They were too inferior.

By the time the herd reached Dodge City and was loaded on the train for Chicago, Blue had proven his worth and was not for sale at any price. He had become the pet of the outfit, and was destined to make many more trips to Dodge City. He, in fact, came to know the route better than some of the men.

On the return trip to the Palo Duro he had no trouble keeping up with the hands and their thirty-mile-a-day clip. Sometimes he would have to trot for a while, but he never seemed to tire, and was always ready to move the next morning.

His value to Goodnight was not as a lead steer alone. When some wild cattle were to be penned, Blue was the one to show them the way to the pens. Usually wild cattle will break before the gate and few will get inside the pen. Blue would lead them straight for the gate and on inside. The wild ones would rush for the far side of the pen, pushing, hooking, and milling, but Blue was not to be caught in such a mess. He would turn sharply as he got inside the gate, wait until the last of the wild ones were in, then bolt out the gate as it was being closed.

Blue was never one to become involved in a stampede. Rather than run until his tongue hung out, he would simply step aside and let the herd go by. Then as it began to slow down he would rejoin the herd. It seemed that at such times his loud bawl was a considerable help in quieting the herd.

Gradually the legs of the cattle became shorter, and sometimes the hands had to hold Blue back. Sometimes the other cattle had to be shod for the trip to Dodge City, but Blue could have done no better with shoes.

Blue kept at his job on the JA ranch for more than eight years, and led over 10,000 cattle to the shipping pens at Dodge City. When he died in 1890 at the age of twenty, his horns were placed in the office of the JA ranch headquarters. Old Blue's horns held their place of honor in the JA headquarters until they were given to the museum on the campus of West Texas State.

Aggie Group To Amarillo Meeting

Professor Frank R. Phillips, head of the Agriculture Department at West Texas State College, accompanied the agriculture class to Amarillo on Thursday, November 16, to attend the Hereford Short Course which was held at the livestock pavilion at the Tri-State Fair Park.

Finer points of the Hereford breed were discussed at the meeting.

Bruce R. Taylor, director of advertising, American Hereford Association, Kansas City, and D. Burns, manager of the Pitchfork Land and Cattle Company, Guthrie, judged and discussed four classes of cattle on the morning program.

Members of the Panhandle Hereford Breeders Association were luncheon hosts to the guests.

Several boys in the class had the opportunity to judge on an equal footing with their fathers.

Demonstration School Sets Up Two-Grade Student Council

Democratic students of the West Texas Demonstration School cast their ballots in the election to determine two members "at large" for the school's Student Council. Supervising the voting, on the left, is Marion Howard, senior student teacher from West Texas State.

The West Texas Demonstration School now has a student Council for the seventh and eighth grades. There are four home rooms of each seventh and eighth grade students. Each home room elected two council members from their own groups. Last Wednesday two members at large were elected, making a total of 18 members of the student council.

The first meeting of the new student council will be held today. Business of prime importance will be the election of a president, vice-president, and secretary from within the council.

The elections were held entirely under the direction of the students. The election was by secret ballot. The two members at large were elected by plurality rather than majority because there were so many students nominated.

The administrators of the demonstration school hope that under faculty supervision the students will be able to cope with the many student problems in a manner similar to that used by most high-schools and colleges with student organizations.

Problems of school life to be handled are conducting of assembly programs, seasonal decorations, traffic regulations within as well as without the school building proper.

If the council for the two grades proves to be satisfactory, the lower grades will be included in a similar program with the object of "teaching students responsibility by giving them responsibility."

Tolliver To Attend Texas Speech Meeting Over Thanksgiving Holiday

Crannell Tolliver, head of the speech department at WT will attend the Texas Speech Association meeting in San Antonio November 23, 24 and 25. This meeting, to be held in the Youth Building at the Travis Park Methodist Church, will mark the Association's silver anniversary.

Mr. Tolliver was elected to the office of Executive Secretary last year. The term lasts three years. This year he will also be chairman of registration.

Other officers are Jesse J. Villarreal, University of Texas, president; Mrs. N. N. Whitworth, Amarillo High School, vice president; and Bruce Roach, University Interscholastic League, editor-historian.

J. H. Plathers, Amarillo High School, is representing this district in the Executive Council. Pre-Convention sustaining members of this area are Joe Bailey, Horace Mann Jr. High School, Amarillo; Cecil Boykin, West Texas State College; Crannell Tolliver, W. T.; and Mrs. N. N. Whitworth, Amarillo High School.

The program starts Tuesday evening with a nominating committee meeting followed by an executive council meeting and a general session of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Friday morning there will be an Interscholastic League breakfast at the Gunter Hotel. Registration starts in the foyer of the Youth Building at 8:30 o'clock. The Interscholastic League will have a forum on "Improving the Speech Division of the Interscholastic League." And there will be a speech correction workshop discussion of "The Aphasic Child." Both meetings will be open to forums and will be at 10:15 o'clock.

At 12:30 the Silver Jubilee Luncheon will be served in the Tapestry Room of the St. Anthony Hotel.

Sectional meetings are to be Friday afternoon. There are three sections, junior high school, senior high school and college and university.

Area meetings will be Saturday at 9:30. John P. Banvard, Borger High School, will be chairman of the drama area. The open forum topic will be "Producing the Play." Radio will have two topics, "What is the Best Medium for Providing Practical Experience to Students of Radio?" and "What Types of Programs Can High Schools and Colleges Do Most Successfully?" Forensic activities will be covered by several talks. Mrs. Rose Powell, Perryton High School, will be chairman of the interpretation area and Betty Brown, Plainview High School, will be chairman of the round-table topic, "Problems in Interpretation." Wendell Cain, W. T. and Jerry McDonough, San Benito High School, will be members of this discussion. Speech correction is the last area listed and a roundtable discussion, "Answers to Your Questions About Speech and Hearing Problems" will be heard.

A luncheon sponsored by the San Antonio Speech Arts Association will be served in the Tapestry Room of St. Anthony's Hotel at 12:15.

Costume Material Donated To WT Speech Department

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Briggs of Canyon, have donated some costume material to the speech department. William A. Moore, professor of speech, said that the gift, an assortment of used clothes, is just what the speech department needs more of. He said some people even clean the things they bring, but cleaning is just an expense to the donors and to bring the things as they are.

Greeks Had Night Life

NEW YORK, N. Y.—Prof. Oscar Broneer, who will teach at the University of Chicago this year, reported recently that excavations had revealed that ancient Corinthians had a gay night life.

Thirty-three taverns have been discovered. Wine jars, mixing bowls, drinking cups, dice and flutes played by the famed Corinthian girls—1,000 of them according to the Roman writer Strabo—indicate, the professor remarked, why the ancient Greeks regarded Corinth as the Paris of their time.

The tools for merrymaking are among the objects that have been recovered from the wells of the taverns into which the Romans hurled them in 146 B.C. when they sacked the city, killed the men and sold the women and children into slavery.

Cup Dedicated

Drinking cups include one with an inscription dedicating it to the cure of hangovers through the powers of the spirit Pausikrepalos. There is no trace, however, of the morning after prescription. Other cups are dedicated to health, peace, love, safety and Zeus the savior.

On the soft earthenware of one container is scratched the romantic salutation, "O you who returned long after I have ceased to expect you."

The dice are six-sided, with each side bearing the name of a god or spirit such as Aphrodite, Demeter, or Zeus. Prof. Broneer said the workmen, who found 60 of the well-worn bones in a single well, promptly fell to rolling them.

The ancients played on marble topped tables, and one of them has been found. Cut into it is a description of the various dice throws. Another has a silver coin glued to it.

It was among these tables, archaeologists think, that there circulated the Corinthian girls known as "sacred slaves." As servants of Aphrodite, these young women also played a part in the religion of the city. Actually they were trained entertainers in the manner of Japanese geisha girls.

Gay Night Life

Corinthian night life, carried on by the light of oil burning earthenware lamps, with its girls, gaming and drinking, centered in an open colonnade 80 feet wide and 500 feet long at the southern end of the market place. Along the front of the colonnade stood a row of 100 bronze statues of such artistic value that they were carried off by the Romans—the excavators have found only the pedestals.

In the rear of the colonnade were the 33 taverns. They were built of stone covered with fine stucco brightly painted and equipped with a system of plumbing that would be the envy of many a modern Greek tavern.

The lower floor of each tavern was divided into two 16-foot square rooms. The front rooms had wells 40 feet deep connected at the bottom with a channel of fresh running water in which milk, meat and wine could be kept cool. It is the only system of the kind ever found in Greece.

Housewife's 'Bottle Note' Cheers Up Yanks in Korea

COLLINGSWOOD, N. J.—Mrs. Elsie B. Pearce, a young housewife, mailed a letter recently addressed "for a soldier at the front who has not received mail." She wrote it on an impulse and the response has been wonderful.

She said she had received eight letters from soldiers on the Korean battle front showing how avid the GI's were for a friendly message from home.

The young housewife had enclosed a photograph of herself in her letter and had written: "This is something like putting a note in a bottle and sending it out to sea."

Her picture and written message ended up on a bulletin board at army headquarters in Korea.

A corporal wrote: "It helps to know that someone cares about our loneliness over here."

Another noncom expressed the hope that more persons "would take the interest in some of these boys that you have, because some of them are so young that they hadn't been away from home before they joined the army and now they seem lost without news from anybody."

4,000-Year-Old Skeleton Found in Bronze Age Site

SINGEN, Germany—A human skeleton, that of a woman, believed to be 4,000 years old, has been found near Singen and is proof of human settlement there from the early stone age to shortly before the Roman conquests.

The discovery was made near Lake Constance, together with the excavation of 10 other ancient graves.

According to experts, the excavation sites are the only ones in central Europe through which human history since 4,000 B.C. can be traced with continuity.

The 4,000-year-old bronze age skeleton, was buried in a sitting position, facing east and had a ring, necklace, a large needle and two ankle hoops, all made of bronze, with her in the grave.

The other burial places revealed urns dating back 3,000 years.

Chimpanzee Learns To Ask for 'Mama'; Gives Bronx Cheer

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — Dr. Keith J. Hayes of Yerkes laboratories of primate biology, Orange Park, Fla., reports he has a chimpanzee that can speak.

Viki, says Dr. Hayes, can give whispered versions of "mama," "papa" and "cup"—and can exchange a Bronx cheer with you.

The three-year-old chimp "has been raised as a child in our home," Hayes told the scientific world.

But he said the significance of his experiment did not lie in Viki's learning to say a few words "but rather in the great difficulty with which she learned them, and in the particular nature of this difficulty."

He says she has been trained to address a male and female researcher as "mama" or "papa" if she wants something. And she says "cup" when she wants a drink.

About that Bronx cheer—

Hayes says that chimps are old hands at making such sounds, apparently for their own amusement. But, whereas with your run of the zoo chimp the cheer is just a solo job, with Viki it's a two way deal.

You give her a cheer and she'll come right back at you.

Why do chimps ordinarily fail to learn to talk "even when exposed to human speech over a period of years?" Hayes' conclusion:

The difficulty is much like that experienced by the human "aphasiac"—a person unable to use articulate speech or comprehend words because of a brain impairment. In the Chimp's case, Hayes figures, it's due to a brain which has not developed "as a typical human brain does."

New Horde of Genghis Khan Plans Paraguayan Invasion

GENEVA, Switzerland — Descendants of the legendary war lord Genghis Kahn are about to launch another invasion—but this time it will be a peaceful one.

The international refugee organization has announced that 700 Kalmucks, descendants of the war lord, are going to settle in Paraguay.

After three years of waiting in Germany, because countries seeking immigrants passed over them because of their Mongolian origin, Paraguay finally has agreed to settle them on 900 acres of fertile valley soil southeast of Asuncion.

Oppressed by their Soviet masters and then gathered up by Adolph Hitler for slave labor in Germany during the war, the Kalmucks gravitated to each other in the IRO camps. They have defied and frustrated all efforts to separate them or settle them in smaller groups.

Paraguayan industrialists and financiers have granted enough land to provide approximately 50 acres to each family. With the ground will go a wooden house, a cow, a horse, 12 chickens and farming tools. During their first six months in Paraguay, the Kalmucks will also receive wages to permit them to buy food.

The ancestors of the Kalmucks came out of western Mongolia with Genghis Kahn in the 13th century in his ill-fated effort to subdue western Europe. They settled in Russia, farming and breeding horses.

Heaviest Rocket Zooms Eighty-Five Miles High

WHITE SANDS, N. M.—The biggest, heaviest rocket ever launched from White Sands ordnance proving ground has zoomed 85 miles into the stratosphere at a speed of 3,600 miles an hour.

Its war head was four times as big as the one the Germans began rocket work with. It was called a "flying laboratory" because it carried so many instruments. These were tossed clear during the flight and came back to earth by parachute for checking.

It was the fourth big rocket tested, all of which went 80 miles or higher.

The instruments had been under construction for over two years.

TOO, TOO FUNNY

"Now, I want everyone to write me a short description of the funniest thing they ever saw," the teacher said to her class.

After five minutes she saw that one of his pupils had put down his pencil and had apparently completed his composition.

"Surely, you haven't finished already?" she asked.

"Oh, yes, I have, miss," was the answer. "The funniest thing I ever saw was too funny for words."

FLUID BREATHING

Radical New Test Planned

CHICAGO—Can humans breathe a fluid instead of air? Sounds fantastic, but that is what scientists are experimenting with in one of the boldest projects being pushed at the Illinois College of Medicine. The U. S. Navy is supplying the funds.

The experiment, employing a fluid in which oxygen is dissolved under pressure, will be tried this fall. A monkey will be dunked into a tankful of oxygen-impregnated fluid.

Sounds more than fantastic, but not if you remember two things. Lungs use oxygen, not air. And many babies start life with amniotic fluid in their lungs. This is expelled when they take their first breath of air.

A man with liquid in his lungs would be very durable. He could go deep into the ocean. He could survive starts and stops in rockets that would crush the chest of an air breather.

Began Four Years Ago

The university's breathing project was started more than four years ago to investigate the cause of hyperoxic convulsions. This condition results when men are given oxygen at the pressure required for deep water dives. It causes convulsion and death.

Fluid breathing became an off-shot of this study. This possibility was discussed by Dr. S. M. Stein and Dr. Warren S. McCulloch.

They agreed that knowledge obtained from the project had shown that such breathing was theoretically feasible. The function vital to life is to get sufficient oxygen through the membrane coating of the lungs to the lung blood capillaries.

Ordinary water would not do. It contains traces of dissolved free oxygen—enough to sustain fish with their large gill areas for extracting it—but not enough to prevent suffocation in an air breathing animal.

Program Outlined

Dr. Stein has outlined this tentative program:

A pressure tank will be filled with a liquid of the same chemical composition as amniotic fluid. Pure oxygen will be forced into the liquid under pressure. This step is similar to carbonating soft drinks with carbon dioxide gas.

The test monkey's throat will be sprayed with an anesthetic. This will knock out the reflex center in the throat—the trigger mechanism that causes men and animals to choke when fluids enter the windpipe.

Then the animal will be immersed. The tank is equipped with devices for checking on all body functions necessary to life. There will be no danger of losing the animal through mishap, Dr. Stein said.

If the experiment is successful, means will have to be worked out for its practical application to man.

A helmet, with the special fluid surrounding the head and filling the diver's lungs, conceivably could be used for deep sea work. A rocket traveler could be immersed in a tank or breathe the fluid via tube from a container strapped to his back.

Lightning Turns House Into an Electric Toaster

UNITY, N. H.—Lightning entering the home of Russell Schultz through the electric lines, turned the house into an electric toaster.

The first indication that there was something wrong came to Mr. Schultz when he tried to get out of bed. An electric shock threw him back again and again as he placed his feet on the floor.

Finally, he reached the cellar in heavy rubber-soled shoes. He was tossed several feet when he threw a master switch. The lights stayed on. His wife was knocked across the kitchen when she brushed against an oil stove.

"All the wires in the walls were overheated," Mr. Schultz said. "About 2,300 volts of electricity were coming into the house instead of the usual 110."

Electric company officials broke the circuit. Linemen reported lightning was the cause.

Family Keeps Good Luck Coin For Over Century

GERMANTOWN, Wis.—The Kenney family has kept one good luck coin for over a century. During that time it has been rattling around in the pockets of Kenney family members.

The coin was minted in 1818. Its early history has been lost but members of the family know that it was carried more than a century ago by John Blake Kenney, Washington, Pa. After his death, his son, Preston F. Kenney, also of Washington, carried it. When he died, it came into the possession of John F. Kenney of Germantown who has carried it for 35 years.

The coin is slightly larger than a present half dollar. Its edge is not milled, but has the words "Fifteen Cents or Half a Dollar" stamped into it. It may be significant, or it may not, but the figure of Liberty on the coin seems a bit plumper than she does on the coins of today.

The absent are always in the wrong.—English Proverb.

Thanksgiving

For 329 years, since the first year after the original colonists landed at Plymouth Rock, Americans have paused following the harvest season to offer Thanksgiving for the benefits that have been theirs.

There have been lean years as well as those that were bountiful. Peace—the credo of all Christian men—has in some years been replaced by warfare and strife. But on every Thanksgiving occasion there has been much for which we—and our forefathers—could give thanks.

At this Thanksgiving season there will be those of us who will discount the riches and blessings that have been our lot. But now—as never before in history—humanity looks to the United States for Thanksgiving. And all our people can be thankful that we share our bounty with the peoples of other lands in the cause of a permanent peace.

Soft-Hearted Marine Adopts 9-Year-Old South Korean Boy

KOREA — Soft-hearted marines have done it again. They have adopted 9-year-old Kim Sun Chung whose mother and father were killed by North Koreans somewhere in the battle area.

A few weeks ago he was found by the marines sitting under a bridge near Pusan. He was dirty and ragged, but he was not crying. Korean children rarely cry.

The marines outfitted him with a green T-shirt, cut-down trousers and got him a pair of shoes but they were too big. So now he goes around barefooted.

At first Kim was fed only rice, the traditional Korean staple, but his diet has been gradually changed to regular marine food. Now Kim won't eat rice any more.

He goes through the chow line and like the other marines eats cereal, grapefruit, bacon and eggs. Then he puts his mess gear through three cans of boiling water, just like the others.

Thousands of Korean boys and girls have been made orphans in the war, but Kim is one of the few who have a new home, a foster father, three meals a day and a place to sleep.

During an interview with a war correspondent he was rather quiet, but when Kim is alone with Private Marvin E. Younger of Dixon, Ill., who found him, he sometimes talks of Tarzan and the jungle boy—evidently he had seen them in the movies when he was living at home with his parents.

Kim likes Americans and Private Younger would like to take him back to the United States when the war is over. But those who know the technical difficulties think it will not happen. It is going to be tough on Kim, they say, when the Marines have to leave him behind.

Earthquake

Greatest in Modern Times

CALCUTTA, India — Reports from northern India on the earthquake said to be the strongest in modern times said enormous tracts of lowland had sunk out of sight and dozens of villages were engulfed.

Chasms and fissures appeared in the earth's surface, and in some places houses sank to a depth of six feet.

One of the strangest aspects of the earthquake was the behavior of the great Brahmaputra river. During the quake, it was turbulent; there were several upheavals in the bed of the river, their noise could be heard a mile away.

The following day, the level fell by eight feet, and on the next day rose above normal. Fish, apparently suffocated by gases, rose to the surfaces, where they were speared with ease or caught by hand.

Air Force Feasts On Pre-Cooked Meals From Electric Ovens

DAYTON, Ohio—The Air Force boys cruise along at 30,000 feet these days and feast on pre-cooked meals from novel electric ovens. Housewives of the nations have never seen anything like the high-altitude devices that heats up frozen or canned food for the air force.

Chow for the big bomber crews may mean a frozen meal of meat or seafood, potatoes, as you like them, and a green vegetable — all wrapped in disposable aluminum trays. Soluable beverages and utensils come along.

Or they can open cans of boned chicken, beef and pork loaf, beef and corn, pork and applesauce, ground meat and spaghetti or chopped ham and eggs. With them come a fruit course, crackers and cookies, and candy for dessert.

The new ovens can heat eight cans of rations in about 11 minutes. The B-3 ovens are ideal for B-29 and B-50 bombers, even under combat conditions.

Each oven has a capacity of eight cans of IF-2 rations. They get hot about 400 watt units, plus side units of 120 watts. But their thermostats keep the heat below 212 degrees. So that the cans won't become hot enough to explode.

Larger B-1 ovens can heat 48 cans of rations in 35 minutes on troop-carrying aircraft.

But the 16-man, B-36 bomber crews will have special B-4 ovens. They can heat six frozen meals in 35 minutes, as well as IF-2 rations. Each B-36 will boast two of the big ovens, weighing 20 pounds each, plus four tiny ice boxes for the frozen meals.

And coming up is a small B-5 oven for fighter planes. It will hold two or three cans of IF-2 rations and come equipped with a motor-driven can opener.

They will permit the busy fighter pilot to heat and open his rations with one hand.

New Mechanism Protects Coffee Taste, Quality

NEW YORK.—Housewives whose coffee tastes exactly the same each morning may owe thanks for its uniformity to a piece of clay tile—not on their kitchen walls, but in the plant where the coffee is roasted.

Coffee companies use a new photo-electric cell mechanism to keep a watchful electric eye on roasting coffee beans. The mechanism, called a colorimeter, is so sensitive it detects the slightest change in the color of the bean—which would mean a change in its taste and aroma.

Occasionally the colorimeter goes blind. It fails to function properly and can't spot small changes in the coffee bean color. To check the machine, engineers decided to expose it regularly to a substance that always retains the same color despite great changes in temperature and light conditions.

They discovered that clay tile, which holds its original baked-in-color for years despite hard wear and temperature variations, is the ideal material for checking the colorimeter. If the mechanism reacts the same every time it's exposed to the same piece of tile, it's not colorblind and can properly police the roasting beans.

So, the tile polices the machine that polices the roasting coffee. Thanks to a few small pieces of the same substance that lines many kitchen walls the coffee made in the kitchen has the same taste each day.

Cleaning Woman Who Found $40,000 Gets $150 Reward

SYRACUSE, N. Y.—The woman who found $40,000 in the First Trust and Deposit company while sweeping up, received a reward of $150.

Mrs. Mary Sakowski, 18-a-week cleaning woman, discovered the money in a teller's cage while at work. She said she took it home with her for safekeeping. She telephoned the bank the next day and asked that it come for the money.

The bank said the reward given her was "moderate" because she had failed to follow instructions and notify her supervisor or the bank's night watchman.

The gold stocks of the United States totaled $23,432,000,000 on October 11, after dropping $1,720,000,000 in the last twelve months. The drop is attributed to the fact that general imports are increasing and exports decreasing.

HORTICULTURE

Plants Feed On Dry Milk

PULLMAN, Wash.—Believe it or not, scientists recommend giving flowers and vegetables milk to improve their growth and beauty.

Montana State College scientists have found milk is as good for some flowers and vegetables as it is for babies. Although the use of it in horticulture is new, many growers in the Pacific Northwest already are reaping benefits.

Commercial flower producers say milk makes petunias grow faster, last longer and bear larger and more brilliant blooms. It improves the color of roses, cinerarias and Chrysanthemums. Long, strong stems are commercially important for such flowers as roses and 'mums. The milk helps.

There are exceptions, however. For instance, research shows that milk shouldn't be given to poinsettias. And apparently it has no beneficial effect on carnations.

Vegetables Flourish

Milk-fed vegetables also do much better than those grown under ordinary conditions. One producer reported his yield of Bermuda onions jumped 35 per cent. A sugar beet grower counted results at the rate of 1,000 more pounds of sugar an acre. A little milk did a world of good for tomatoes. Roots and stems were stronger, fruit set was better and the quality of the tomato much improved.

The experiment was conducted by V. E. Iverson, member of the Montana State College horticultural staff. It has been put in practical use in a number of greenhouses.

Milk is used in the early stages of plant growth. It is applied mainly to seedlings in the greenhouses before the plants are put in the field. The milk, fed either dry or fluid form, helps the seedlings get off to a good start. It appears to protect the young plants from at least two diseases—stunt virus and damping off, which is rot condition caused by parasitic fungi. One greenhouse man reported he cut damping off by 50 per cent.

Inexpensive Plant Food

Herman J. Feiden of Great Falls, Mont., a greenhouse operator, is sold on the use of milk. He mixes dried milk with bench soil. Other growers have diluted milk and sprayed it into the soil.

Feiden buys dried milk in 250-pound barrels. The cost is eight to 10 cents a pound, wholesale. The Great Falls greenhouse man says it doesn't add much to the expense of production, because it takes only half an ounce of dried milk per flat bed in growing flower seedlings. Since milk for horticulture purposes is new, it hasn't caused any great reaction in the dairy industry so far, but dairymen might look into the chance to promote a new market.

U.S. Investing More In Pupils, Poll Shows

WASHINGTON — The average cost of sending a pupil to public school increased from $88 in 1940 to $206 in 1949, or 134 per cent, the U. S. chamber of commerce reported recently.

However, adjusting the 1940 expense to the 1949 cost of living discloses a "real increase in investment per pupil of approximately 37 per cent," the survey said.

But the national income shot up faster than school expenditures. The study, compiled by the chamber's education committee, said the percentage of total income devoted to education dropped from 2.55 per cent in 1940 to 2.27 in 1949.

The two highest states in terms of percentage of income spent on education last year were South Dakota with 3.65 per cent, and New Mexico with 3.6.

The lowest were Missouri with 1.76 per cent, and Massachusetts with 1.64.

The highest states in average pupil expenditure last year were New York, $312; Montana, $302; New Jersey, $298, and Connecticut, $297.

The lowest were Kentucky, $109; Alabama, $105; Arkansas, $102, and Mississippi, $73.

Director Hates Bananas Except With His Gorilla

CLEVELAND, O.—Fletcher Reynolds, director of the Cleveland zoo, wishes he had never heard of bananas, or roast beef, or plums and pears. And all because of a little girl gorilla.

The baby ape, Yokadouma, was brought from Africa earlier this year weighing a healthy 50 pounds. But after a while she stopped eating.

In desperation, Mr. Reynolds climbed into her cage with two bananas. One he ate; the other he offered Yokadouma. Watching him she ate also. But she would only take a bite when he did.

For two weeks Mr. Reynolds set an example for her by eating more bananas, roast beef, plums and pears.

He gained 10 pounds. Yokadouma gained too, but she was still underweight and the eating contest continued.

Highball

Salt Water Recommended

NEW HAVEN, Conn. — The Quarterly Journal of Alcohol carried a report recently that suggested one should take a drink of salt water when he has reached the stage of really craving alcohol.

The report was a study by Dr. W. D. Silkworth and Dr. M. T. N. of Knickerbocker Hospital, N. Y. They analyzed the blood of persons who had been drinking heavily enough to be hospitalized. In all cases they found the salt reduced.

From this study they concluded the body is really craving salt, even though the palate says alcohol. There is nothing imaginary behind this sensation. It is purely physical reaction that fools the senses.

The recommended salt drink, says the report, is two grams of salt in thirty cubic centimeters of water, followed by two hundred cubic centimeters of water. This amounts to a small teaspoonful of salt in a little more than an ordinary glass of water.

New Electric Sander Designed for Number Of Household Uses

CHICAGO, Ill. — One bugaboo haunting housewives' attempts to repaint furniture is the need to remove the old paint to assure a professional-like job.

An electric sander, invented by Albert J. Dremel of Racine, Wis., and manufactured by the firm bearing his name, has solved the problem, and, in the process, has converted thousands of housewives into home furniture renovators.

Ordinarily, the thought of sanding by hand to eliminate the old stubborn paint is usually enough to convince a housewife to turn the job over to her husband, or to change her thinking that the old chair or table is in need of a new finish.

Weighing only two and a half pounds, the machine completely eliminates the need for hand sanding in refinishing old tables, floors, chairs, or other furniture or woodwork.

Here's how it works: Just plug the cord into any regular AC outlet and press the switch located on top of the sander which compactly fits the hand. That's all there is to it. The sander's vibrating motion at the rate of 14,400 strokes a minute will do the rest.

The sanding surface is designed to work on either flat, curved, or round surfaces, and to get into tight corners or other awkward spots easily and efficiently.

The sander comes equipped with several sheets of sandpaper of varying grades. Clamps at either end of the machine hold the sandpaper firmly during the sanding operation. When fine sanding is desired, it is a simple matter—it takes only a few seconds—for the housewife to insert a sheet of fine sandpaper between the clamps.

Versatility is another strong feature of the sander. With sandpaper removed and a polishing pad substituted, it becomes an efficient polisher for furniture, linoleum—even shoes. With polishing pad removed, it serves effectively as a massager, giving quick relief to tired muscles.

Old Mother Goose Joins 'Cold War' on Soviet

WASHINGTON — The Voice of America is using nursery stories on its overseas propaganda broadcasts to kid Moscow's extravagant charges against the west. They try to expose by ridicule the upside-down arguments of Jacob Malik, Soviet delegate to the United Nations security council.

The voice version of Mr. Malik says Cinderella was a victim of craven monopolists, and what's more, her case is on the agenda illegally. Mr. Malik is quoted as saying the sparrow that killed Cock Robin was just on a training mission, and was not armed. The unfortunate fate of Little Red Riding Hood's grandmother—says Malik—cannot be discussed before the wolf is consulted.

This music-hall approach to propaganda is used in the voice's political cabaret program. This broadcast is beamed to eastern Europe, where the people are used to political farces on the stage.

The voice stories try to show that Mr. Malik's reports on international affairs are just as absurd as the upside-down nursery stories.

Texas Ranks First in Slot Machines; Washington Second

WASHINGTON—The internal revenue bureau in its report for the year which ended June 30 said Texas far exceeded any other state in the number of establishments paying federal taxes last year to operate slot machines.

Out of 66,278 such establishments in the United States and its territories, 8,134 were in Texas.

In second place was Washington with 6,749, followed by California with 5,760 and Illinois with 5,368. Kentucky had 1,618. Vermont has only seven.

The federal tax on "coin-operated gaming devices" is $100 per device.

Stonewall Jackson Scion Rides to Battle in Truck

MIRYANG, KOREA — In the days of the Civil War, Stonewall Jackson rode forth to war on a horse. The modern Stonewall Jackson, however, rides forth in a truck.

A great-grandson of the famous general, from Salem, Ore., is a marine now serving in Korea. He saw action in the Kongsachon drive on the south coast but returned to the rear with an infected foot.

When he returned to the front he got a ride on a hard wooden box housing hand grenades. Said the 18-year-old youth, "I'd rather ride a horse."

Youth Trapped Four Days In Strike-Locked Rail Car

CALGARY, Alta. — A Canadian farm youth was trapped in a refrigerator car when that nation's railroads went on strike and was confined 100 hours before rescued. Jack MacDonald, 19, told police he sneaked into the car in hope that it would take him to some outlying farm community where he could get a job as a harvester. Then the strike began and the car was locked and left standing in the yards.

The youth said he spent his time sleeping and beating on the car door. Children playing near the car heard his weakened cries and called police. The youth was sent to a hospital, suffering from exhaustion and exposure.

"Being in the car almost drove me crazy," he said. "At first I became thirsty and hungry, but there was nothing to eat or drink. Then after a while I didn't care any more."

Death and Taxes Shrink Oilman's 19-Million Estate

NEWPORT, R.I.—If you inherited a $19,000,000 estate don't think you would get it all. In fact, you would only net about $2.8 millions.

As an example, the estate of Robert Walton Golet, an oil magnate who died in 1941, amounted to $19,000,000.

But federal taxes took $11,572,448; New York state tax $2,693,096; Rhode Island state tax $1,269,859; Utah state tax $2,717; Province of Quebec tax $6,833; Province of New Brunswick tax $7,898; administrative expenses $966,000; appraisers' fees $250,000.

Then after other minor expenses the amount remaining to the four heirs was $2,808,615.

Revenue Department Says Bootlegging Up 25 Per Cent

WASHINGTON—Bootlegging is up 25 per cent over last year.

At the end of June 30, the internal revenue commission reported, federal men seized 10,929 illicit stills, compared with 8,008 the year before.

The alcohol tax unit also made 10,209 arrests, 1,294 more than the previous year. Criminal cases terminated amounted to 5,982, with 4,677 cases still pending.

The commission said 140,599 gallons of mountain "moonshine", 21,874 more gallons than during the year before, were confiscated. In addition, 4,892,608 gallons of mash were seized.

AND FEEL BETTER

Johnnie had been disobedient, and finally his teacher asked him to stay after school.

"Johnnie," she began, "I have to mark the report cards this evening. Now, what do you think I should do about yours?"

"Well," said the youngster, "I think you really ought to go home and have a good dinner and rest before you mark mine."

BUFFS WHIPPED HS

Buffaloes Will Receive Bowl Bid With a Clear Border Conference Record

What little doubt there was remaining as to West Texas State's worthiness of the Border Conference crown was all removed Saturday afternoon in Abilene.

The Buffs, who clinched the title last week when Hardin-Simmons University lost to Texas Western, turned on the heat in Abilene before 8,000 fans Saturday afternoon and butchered the Cowboys 47-31.

Physically, it was the Buffs' hardest win of the season. It was a bitterly fought contest and flying elbows ceased only at the game's end.

Seven men—four Cowboys and three Buffs—were ejected from the game. Officials stepped off 130 yards in penalties, 75 against the Buffs and 55 against Hardin-Simmons.

Coach Krank Kimbrough and Referee Gib Jackson exchanged heated words in the third quarter when Kimbrough was forced to point out that the Cowboys were playing the game with 12 men and that according to the rules only 11 men were allowed.

When Kimbrough took the field to voice his protest, Jackson walked off 15 yards against the Buffs. When his mistake was realized he called for the ball to be returned to the original point. Then when Kimbrough insisted that Hardin-Simmons be penalized for playing with too many men—they ran two plays with 12 men on the field—Jackson blew his verbal top and again penalized the Buffs.

But Kimbrough wasn't the only one to have words with Jackson. Cowboy Coach Warren Woodson voiced his complaint when two Cowboys were ejected from the game for no apparent reason. However, the site of the contest probably saved the Cowboys from the Buffs fate under similar circumstances.

The Buffs played under wraps all the way. They refused the wide open brand of ball of which they are capable and stuck to the ground with Bill Cross and Charlie "Wire" Wright racking up 451 yards rushing.

A touted aerial duel was all Abilene folks had to look forward to, but that never developed.

John Ford, the Cowboy passing ace, was as good as they claimed, but the remainder of the squad wasn't. Any resemblance the Cowboys had to a ground attack melted into the Buffs vicious forward wall. They were excellent.

It was Ford's passing game that kept Hardin-Simmons going. And the only comparison fans could make between Ford and the Buff's Gene Mayfield was field generalship. There Mayfield excelled. He mixed his plays and kept enough of a passing threat to keep the Cowboys defenses scattered. The Quitaque quarterback only threw 11 passes, his lowest total this season, but he completed five of these for 96 yards and two touchdowns.

Ford on the other hand threw 33 passes and completed 19 for 306 yards. Bob Hart, Cowboy halfback, threw two and completed one for five yards. He threw three touchdown passes and scored one running.

Tommy Airhart was the boy who started it all. The rangy Buff fullback was playing safety when Hardin-Simmons was forced to kick on their first series of plays. Airhart took the ball on his 19 and running straight up the middle mixing an excellent piece of running with good blocking afforded by the Herd's forward wall went 81 yards to score. The last 30 yards involved a dead-heat race between Airhart and Hart, but the Canyon speedster was across the double stripe when Hart finally caught up. Roy Dunn punched his first of five conversions between the post, 7-0.

The Pokes bounced back with their only sizable ground advance of the afternoon setting up the tally scored in five plays on a pass from Ford to Bill Cagle in the endzone. The drive covered 50 yards with Bob Blair setting it up with a 28 yard run to the Buff 15. Bill Goldman's try for point was wide, 7-6.

West Texas first play from scrimmage involved little Bill Cross, the Buffs All-America candidate. The Canadian Comet took a slick hand-off from Mayfield, slithered through a gaping hole in his own right guard, picked through the secondary and went 53 yards to tally. Dunn again added the point, 14-6.

West Texas started again when Dunn deflected and Kelly intercepted Ford's pass on the 50 and returned to the Hardin-Simmons 33. Cross bounced over right guard again for eight and the Cowboys were penalized to the 10 for unnecessary roughness. Wright hit to the five and Cross piled over center to the one. Then Wright piled over the Herd's third TD with six minutes and 32 seconds gone in the first quarter and Dunn kicked the point.

They added another before the quarter ran out when a 70 yard drive featuring two runs each by Cross and Wright and two completed passes by Mayfield. The scoring was handled on a 25 yard pass from Mayfield to Eddie Conner, who had slipped behind Dale Witcher in the end zone. Dunn's kick was wide, 27-6.

The Pokes took the following kickoff and picked up five first downs scored with Ford carrying on a keeper over right guard from the Buffs' one. Goldman made his try for point stand, 27-13.

The Buffs rebounded on a 57 yard drive with Mayfield passing to Dunn for five yards and their next score. Dunn added the point, 34-13.

They had another drive cut short by the halftime gun after driving 78 yards to the Cowboy six. Cross carried around right end but the gun sounded before the play got underway.

The halftime score was 34-13.

The third quarter started much like the others. West Texas took the kickoff and marched 70 yards to score but most of it came on Charlie Wright's 44 yard jaunt up the middle. It was interesting to note that this was the same play on which Wright scored the first touchdown against the Cowboys last year. Dunn's kick was wide, 40-13.

Hardin-Simmons came back and moved on Ford's passing to the West Texas one foot line, then Ford passed to Brooks Allen who made a spectacular catch in the end zone. Goldman's kick was blocked, 40-19.

They got another one just before the end of the period when Ford faded back and lofted a long pass to Cagle who took it on the 15 and outran Tom Jinks to score. Goldman's kick was blocked, 40-25.

Fourth Quarter—Only two scores were made in the final period. West Texas moved 57 yards on the ground that ended with Cross plunging over from the one and Dunn kicking good, 47-25.

The Cowboys came back when

Mayfield's pass was intercepted on the 50 and returned to the Buff's 34 by Gene Offield. Ford turned in a nice running game here when his receivers were all tagged and help carry to the two where Mitchell Malouf went over for the final score. Goldman's kick was blocked, 47-31.

West Texas was knocking again at the Cowboy goal line when the game ended. They had moved in five plays from their own 36 to the Cowboy 13 when it ended. Final score: 47-31.

Varied Reactions of H-S Game

The mighty West Texas State Buffs were right jubilant, as you might expect, when they went to the showers Saturday, fresh from a hammering 47-31 win over the crazy Hardin-Simmons Cowboys.

The boys were severely marked after the roughhouse contest, but from under the bloody noses white teeth flashed in satisfied grins.

The excitement was not rampant, however, because the boys had figured they'd win convincingly, and had anticipated it would be rough.

As they pulled off the sweat-soaked white jerseys, amid a crowd of dads and fans and high-strung coaches, they whipped out a few choruses of "Goodnight Irene." Fortunately, the mind-and-muscle coordination of these athletes is far superior to their a cappella achievement.

Most of the talk among the players centered around the dirt that was done and undone during the battering bitter contest. It seems that before the feebly officiated fuss was over, the philosophy got to be "do unto others before others do unto you."

Coach Frank Kimbrough who raged and stormed on the sideline and on the field as Referee Gib Jackson tangle-footed from one mistake to another, declared the officiating poor and indicated Mr. Jackson would not soon be employed in another West Texas State contest.

Hardin-Simmons Mentor Warren Woodson, who likewise suffered because of Gib Jackson's short temper and long nonsense, agreed with Kimbrough that Mr. Jackson as an official would make a fine spectator.

Kimbrough, in discussing the more brutal stages of the vicious fight, said some of his boys were bitten by Simmons players. In proof Guard Don Tucker exhibited scars on his arm from a perfect set of teeth. The rations must be short at the Simmons training table, the Buffs figure. As Tucker put it: "One of them tried to eat me!"

The Panhandle's great team was fussed over, collectively and individually, for at least an hour after the game. Pretty girls, some of them wives and some of them—well, just pretty girls, embraced the hulking Buff athletes, and everybody wrung everybody's hand.

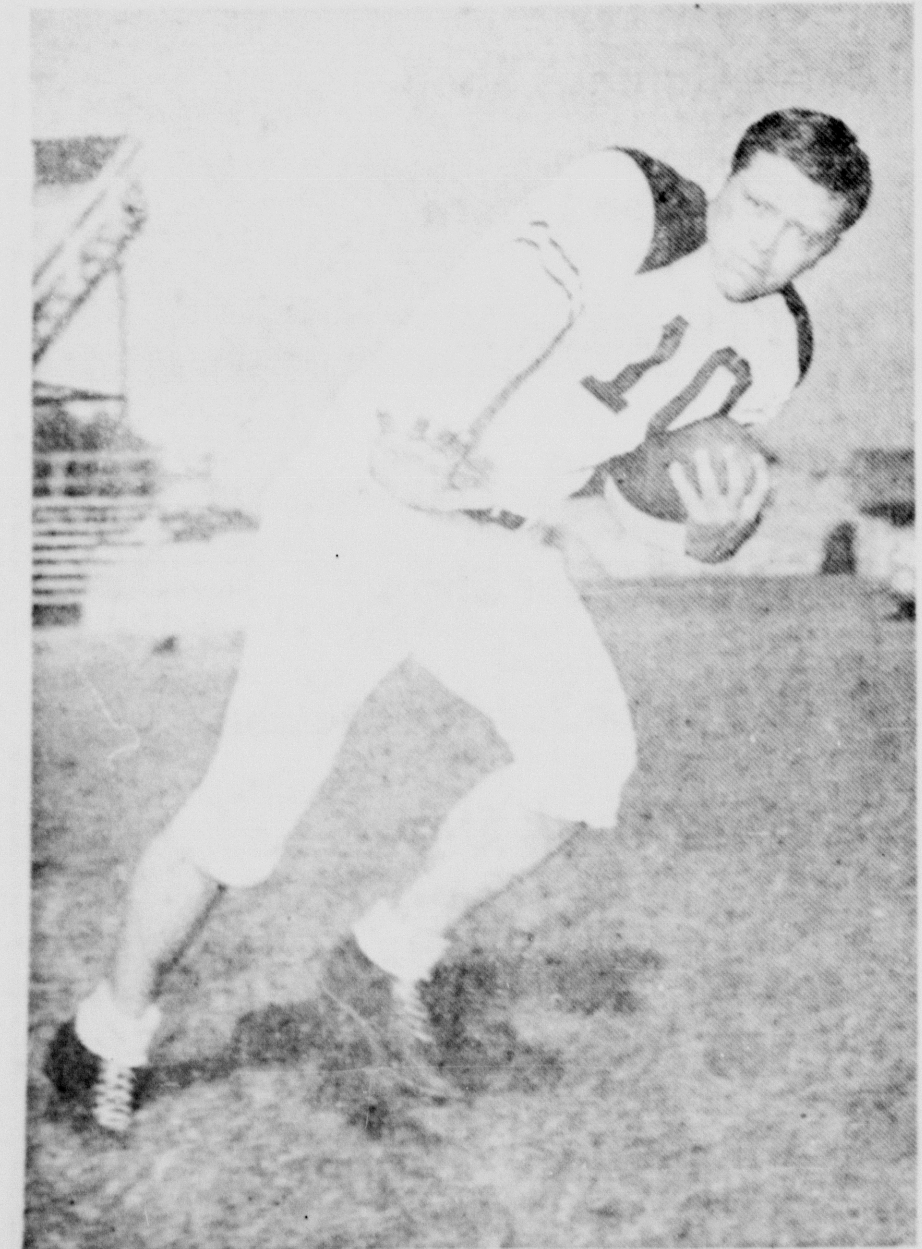

Dads beamed at their sons, high school coaches congregated to congratulate the kids who once had played for them, and everybody agreed that one heck of a ball game had just been played.

It was much quieter over where the Cowboys pulled off their pads. (Continued on page three)

Varied Reactions

The players didn't linger, dressing quickly and departing.

They expressed disappointment in their own performance and amazement at the great Buff running power which bowled them over from the outset.

Coach Woodson had promised Abilene in a pep rally the night before the game that he would give them a win over the Conference champs. His team had believed that.

Best quote picked up in the Cowboy quarters came from a kid with a skinned nose who said: "Well, we were doing all right holding them for a little while—when we had 12 men on the field."

That 12-man proposition brought the biggest flare-up of the game, and play was resumed only after the Buffs, who had been playing with the usual 11 men, were penalized 15 yards by the erratic Mr. Jackson. The Pokes escaped penalty for their 12th man tactics.

There was much talk in both dressing rooms about the circumstances in which players were ousted from the game. First man off was Tackle Donald Briggs of the Buffs, a man noted as a "big friendly boy" who won't be pushed around. He was booted when he returned an elbow for an elbow.

The last expulsion—and there were several in between—was of Hardin-Simmons players. Guard Hugh Higgins was kicked off in the last quarter when he apparently accidentally brushed Referee Jackson in returning to the huddle. It seems Jackson's nerves were ruffled by this time, and he was not to be touched.

Big Bob Kelly of the Buffs went off with Cowboy Guard Dennis Phelps after punches were traded. Hardin-Simmons Tackle Clinton Holder went out when he tossed a few punches at the Buffs John Poindexter. Poindexter ducked the blows deftly until the official found time to take note to the matter, thus saving his right to continue play.

Reporters heard no bowl talk in the Buffalo dressing room, although it now appears certain that the West Texas State team will get at least one bid, that to the host spot in the Sun Bowl.

Instead, the players talked of next week's trip to Corpus Christi, and to the possibility of a deep sea fishing trip after that game.

Coach Kimbrough dashed about from player to player, dad to dad and fan to fan, giving and accepting congratulations, but too excited to stop for conversation.

His comment on the game was concerned with the quality of the officiating and with the high scoring.

"I never thought there would be that much scoring," Kimbrough said.

The game itself reflected a thing or two that needs re-proving now and then. It was case of a great power running team against a ball-club that had only passing, fine as that passing was. The point driven home to the Hardin-Simmons backers was the same that SMU fans recognized a couple of weeks ago—passing is nice, but hard running behind bruising blocking will beat it.

AN OBSERVATION

During the last two or three weeks when the attentions of the American people, as well as our own community people here in Canyon, has been focused upon the various phases of education, it behooves us to pause for a moment of reappraisal and reaffirmation of the scheduled accomplishments of our public school system. The first question which inevitably appears is: are we actually teaching our children the well-known fundamentals of reading, writing and arithmetic, in addition to current preparations for wholesome living in modern society. After a few moments of observation, it is easy to see that not only are children learning the THREE R'S with better understanding and application than ever before, but it is highly obvious that in addition to these "essentials" they are simultaneously developing a more wholesome and cheerful attitude toward living, and they are learning to strive for increasingly more desirable relations with their associates. They are conceiving more and more of the fundamentals of human association that they may be valuable as members of their family, their community and their world. It is also obvious that their conceptions of respect for others, fair and honest dealing, and attitudes of over-all cooperation in a predominantly adult social world graduates month by month. It is doubtful that in our modern education the Fine Arts, as such, are receiving as much prominence as in former years, although these fields seem to be healthier with the progress to date.

One thing is certain and that is the majority of our children of today are developing intellectual curiosities which provide a most rational inquisitiveness resulting in an acute inducement to think in order that they may learn how to express their thoughts, understand the thoughts of others, that they may be well versed in what has happened before their time and keenly interested in what is happening now.

It would seem then that in re-evaluating the general educational policies of today, especially at the cessation of American Education Week we can observe in general that teachers are teaching better, students are learning more, and progress is being made and accepted in a very normal and healthy manner. This means, of course, one thing must not be forgotten that we, both as students and teachers, in order to maintain the rising growth in this progress, must acknowledge the presence of still greater challenges in the learning and teaching processes and be very vigilant for their adaptations.

Canyon High Girls In Style Show

"Oh, what a funny hat." "You should have been a flapper." "Look at those shoes." These were a few of the remarks heard when the style show, sponsored by Mrs. Perry Bell, was given by twenty-six of the FHA girls of Canyon High for the Sue Hite Club, November 12.

Dresses representing dates from 1879 to 1950 were modeled by the girls in the lounge of Cousins Hall. Each dress was explained to the members of the club by Mrs. Bell as they were shown.

Well, gang, here I am with a few classified ads from a few of the students of Canyon High.

Wanted!!
 Merle Bullard wants a cat that thinks it is a cat. "Sam", her kitty, thinks he is a chicken and, therefore, he lives, eats, and crows with the chicks. Merle says she will even settle for a chicken that thinks it's a cat. Call Wichita Falls---340-J.

For Sale!!
 A newly polished pair of football shoes, size 15-1/4, are for sale by Robert McClendon, who was recently hurt during football practice and is no longer able to play. (Will throw in a pair of brown shoestrings and a bottle of peroxide.)

Would Like to Buy!!
 Joan Mickey would like to buy a new pair of sweat socks. She dropped and broke her old ones in basketball practice the other day.

Job Wanted!!
 Patty Sue Ford wants a job as a typist. She says that Mr. Lloyd Johnson will provide references for her excellent typing. (She now types at the rate of three words per minute.)

How Important Is That Test

"Examinations provide an excellent opportunity for the student to organize the important points he has gleaned from his study during the six-weeks period," said Mr. Miller. "I feel certain that every student will be materially benefited by reviewing, organizing, and presenting in written form the high points covered by the examination."

Some students underestimate the value of the six-weeks tests. The test comprises one-fourth of the six-weeks grade. Therefore, a student must have a good grade in his daily work to fail the test. A daily average can be raised considerably if the test grade is good.

What are some of the causes for a student's failing a test?

The most common reason, no doubt, is the failure to learn the work as the six-weeks progresses. The odds are against a student's passing a test if he learns nothing during the six-weeks and then tries to learn everything the night before the test.

Make your test grade the best one that you can. Show by it the things you have learned from the course.

Eclipse Postpones Dogpatch Race

In honor of Sadie Hawkins' Week an original version of Sadie Hawkins' Day was presented by the senior class of '51 to the high school assembly on Thursday morning.

Since Al Capp, the cartoonist, was reportedly still in Europe, Bettie Slagle, mistress of ceremonies, edited the script.

A lonely mountain side located on the outer edge of Dogpatch was the setting of the story. The drawing of the curtain revealed Mammy Yokum with pickaxe in hand trying to dig Pappy out from under the mountain which fell on top of him.

The last of the "Dogpatchers" to arrive was Soft-Hearted John carrying a large turnip. This aroma brought Pappy to the surface immediately.

While waiting for sun-rise, the "Dogpatchers" amused themselves by telling jokes, singing, and piano-playing. Then due to an eclipse of the sun, the big race was postponed.

The story ended with one of the Skraggs Boys making Ole Man Mose's annual predictions. Ole Man Mose found it impossible to venture out of his cave this year.

UN Flag Given To Canyon High

A United Nations flag was presented to Canyon High recently in assembly on behalf of the West Side Home Demonstration Club members. Mrs. Ray Metcalf, president, presented the flag which Mrs. B. A. Burrus had made.

The flag is sky-blue with a polar globe of white in the center encircled by an olive wreath. The blue represents bravery; the white, purity. The olive leaves symbolize peace, and the lives around the map of the world signify world peace.

Principal J. E. Miller accepted the gift and said the flag would soon be displayed on the auditorium stage and would be available to any school organization desiring its use.

Coming soon to Olympe, Gary Cooper in "DALLAS."

FHA Week Initiation

The Future Homemakers of America in Canyon High School celebrated National FHA Week, from November 12, through the 19th.

The highlight of the week was the candlelight initiation of the new members. The setting for the initiation was in the high school auditorium, where the officers of the club were seated around a table which was draped in white, with a lovely bouquet of American Beauty roses in the center. On either side of the roses were eight tapers, signifying the eight purposes of the organization. The candidates made a semicircle around the stage and each girl was given a small white candle which was lighted from two of the large tapers held by Ruby Lee Bonds, club treasurer, and Joyce Payne, club vice-president. After lighting the candles, the girls recited the creed and sang the FHA song. The candidates left the stage single-file, singing "Sing Your Way Home."

Bettie Graham, president of the club, then invited the parents that were present to a reception in the Home Economics dining room. Approximately sixty-five members and fifty-five parents attended the tea.

Other activities throughout the week were an FHA bulletin board in the main hall which was decorated in red and white, FHA colors, with the FHA song, purposes, and various other things on it that signified some of the organizations activities and some of the things FHA stands for. Thursday was "Be Courteous" day throughout the school and posters on that subject were made by the FHA girls. Throughout the week, all members, there are approximately eighty, wore red and white ribbon pins signifying their membership in the club. Sunday, the nineteenth, the girls closed the FHA week by attending church together.

Eagles Go Down Before Dalhart Wolves 34-24

The Dalhart Wolves, sparked by the fine running of Bill Cessun, proved too much for the Eagles in the second half by coming from behind to win 34-24.

Dalhart scored in the first period and held the Eagles scoreless throughout the first quarter.

A brilliant display of heads-up ball was shown by halfbacks Slack and Williams as they intercepted Dalhart passes to set up two touchdowns for Canyon. Butler passed to Cummings in the end zone for Canyon's first score. Minutes later the Eagles were knocking at the Wolves' door again. A spread pass play with Butler throwing to Busteded put Canyon in the lead 12-7. The climax of the second quarter came when Jim Wooten intercepted a Dalhart pass and scooted 20 yards to score. This touchdown made the score Canyon 18, Dalhart 6. In the remaining minutes of the first half Dalhart scored and converted the point to leave the halftime score 18-14 in favor of Canyon.

Dalhart returned strong the third quarter making two touchdowns and holding the Eagles scoreless.

Activities Highlight Speech Class

Speech has been added to the curriculum of Canyon High School for the first time in several years. Mr. C. E. Boykin, graduate of West Texas State College, is instructing the class.

Speeches on various subjects are given in the class. So far three speeches have been heard. The first was on Summer Vacations. Second, a five-minute original talk was presented. Third, excellent Armistice Day Speeches highlighted the class. The subjects were Our Government, The First Armistice Day, What America Means to Me, and many others.

The first part of the year deals with public speaking, emphasizing the development of tone quality, diction, quality of material, and how to speak in front of an audience. The correct posture is also an important thing to be remembered in public speaking.

The speech class went to the Lubbock Clinic which was conducted by the Texas Tech speech club. A stunt show featuring song, dance, and story was presented during the Halloween Carnival. Preparations for a Thanksgiving play are being made. November 27 the class will attend the Amarillo Little Theater Production of "Born Yesterday."

In December the class plans to attend the fall festival at WTSC. The class also plans to enter the County Oration Contest. Several plays will be presented to the student body during the year.

Puppet Show Wins Applause

The Crawford Eagles, experienced in show business for thirty years, presented a marionette "variety show" to the high school assembly November 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Eagle met each other while they were both playing leads in a musical show. After they were married, Mr. Eagle kept up his work in vaudeville. Marionettes began as a hobby with Mrs. Eagle. She had always enjoyed dolls and puppets. Mr. Eagle made the dolls while Mrs. Eagle dressed them and manipulated them. Mr. Eagle still makes the puppets.

A friend told them about the Southern Assemblies and it wasn't long before they had a job giving their fascinating show to schools all over the country.

The humorous acts which were presented were taken directly from vaudeville. These included everything from three "backwoods boys" to a Grand Opera singer.

Each number was a show in itself. The clown with his trapeze; the Negro dancers; the ballerina.

Because of lack of time and a schedule they had to meet, it was impossible for them to give us any more numbers. However, they hope to come back to Texas someday.

"B's" Lose Thriller To Happy 7-6

The Canyon "B" team concluded its football season by losing to the Happy "B" team 7-6. Canyon's lone tally was scored on a 95 yard kickoff return by Bob Ratcliff. The try for the extra point failed. Happy intercepted a pass to set up its touchdown, and drove over from the two yard line to score. The try for the extra point was good.

The "B" team, under the leadership of Coach Lloyd Johnson, enjoyed a good season while winning five games and losing two. The "B" team scored 110 points to its opponents 46.

Six Eagles Make District Teams

Quarterback Garland Butler along with right end Ray Burrus, were chosen for first team honors in District 1A.

Butler is a three year letterman and a senior. His previous athletic honors are a second team All-District and All-Region quarterback. Butler has also received All-Star honorable mention in basketball.

Burrus, a junior with one more year of eligibility, is a two year letterman and has also been nominated for All-State end. Burrus was a member of the All-Regional Basketball team and received All-State honorable mention in 1949.

Jim Russell, Bob Busteded, and Harrell Slack were named to the second team.

Russell, center, a senior letterman, has had no football experience previous to this season.

Busteded, left tackle, also a senior, is a two year letter man and co-captain of the Eagles.

Slack, right halfback, is a junior with one more year of eligibility. Slack is a two-year letter winner.

Jim Wooten, right guard and senior letterman, received honorable mention.

In T.S.T.A. Meeting

A meeting of the Texas State Teachers Association is scheduled for November 22-24 at San Antonio, Texas. Mr. E. A. Wooten, Mr. Rex Reeves, and Mr. J. E. Miller, along with many teachers from both the schools expect to attend.

This statewide meeting is being held for the purpose of solving the problems which occur in the class room, on the campus, or outside of school. Some of the topics for discussion are: Improving Teacher Certification Standards; Recent Curriculum Trends and Developments; Camping Education and the Extended School Year; Education for International Understanding.

Mr. Wooten said that of the 50,000 teachers in Texas practically one hundred per cent were in the association.

Coming soon to Olympe "KING SOLOMON'S MINES." Actually filmed in Africa!

National Honor Society Chosen

Eight seniors and twenty-four juniors were elected to membership in the National Honor Society as announced by Principal J. E. Miller. This is the largest membership of the NHS in the history of Canyon High School.

The senior members chosen were: Merle Bullard, Teddie Howell, Jimmie Jennings, Dorothy McReynolds, Barbara McDougal, Claude Money, Annette Rusk, Bettie Slagle, and Jerry Williams.

The membership of juniors consisted of: Wayne Bassett, Barbara Beck, Florence Coffee, Sterling Cummings, Sherma Dixon, Joann Dodson, Charles Donnell, George Dowlen, Shirley Erwin, Rowena Funston, Bettie Graham, Doyle Green, Bettie Hancock, Dyann Hand, Raymond Hinders, Gletetta Johnson, Marshall Jones, Bette McGeehe, Mae Montgomery, Joyce Payne, Virginia Rigsby, Nelda Ruthart, Anna Lou Samuelson, and Richard Sanders.

Students remaining in the Society from last year are: Linda Dooley, Don Johnson, James Miller, Billy Morton, Archie Phelps, Anita Ruthart, and Jimmie Wooten.

The members were chosen according to the National Honor Society Constitution approved in Washington, D. C. A student is not even considered with a scholastic average under eighty-five. Then he must have been in CHS for at least one year and be a junior or senior. He is next chosen for his service and leadership in school, and his character in the community. Unfavorable actions in the community reported to the school can cause a member to be dropped from the society.

Girls' Basketball Is Recognized

Girls' basketball for the first time has been recognized by the interscholastic league. The Eaglettes have joined the league, which will group all the school activities in one league.

A few changes in the rules will make the game faster and more interesting. The changes are:

1. A player may tie the ball at any time except when a player has fallen to the floor, and when the ball is put at the center circle. (This means that players may snatch, bat, or gain possession of the ball held by an opponent as in boy's rules.)

2. A caught ball must be thrown within five seconds.

3. No team shall play more than 36 games including tournaments, or enter more than three tournaments including district.

The girls' Basketball code for the league is:

"The basketball code means to play the game in the spirit of fairness and clean sportsmanship to observe all rules and not to attempt to hold, "beat the ball," or coach from the side lines, because it can be done without the knowledge of the referee, or to resort to trickery in equipping, or preparing players.

It means to accept decisions of the officials without protest and to see that proper precautions are taken for their protection and safety, treat your opponents as your guests, and to put clean play and real sportsmanship above victories. It means the ability to win without boasting and to lose without grudge. "Victory is no great matter. The important thing in sport is the striving to excel and the good feeling it fosters between those who play fair and have no excuse when they lose."

Audio-Visual Recognition

An audio-visual demonstration center has been designated in Canyon as the West Texas Demonstration School by the National Education Association. The NEA Audio-Visual Certificate of Merit has been awarded to the school.

Mrs. W. L. Smith is head of the Audio-Visual Department and is responsible for organization and planning in regard to purchase and distribution of films. Mrs. Smith also instructs several classes in audio-visual education.

Among available equipment are film-strip machines, in which both slides and strips may be used. Many of these slides may be handmade to suit needs, making use of slides a practical and versatile branch of visual aids.

Stereoscopes, tachistoscopes, an opaque machine, movie projectors, tape recorders, maps and an audiometer are other valuable audio-visual facilities.

Miss Alice Payne, Mr. Cecil Briggs, and Mr. W. L. Vaughan have used these facilities effectively.

Texas Laboratory Gets High Rating From Authorities

A delayed report from the United States Public Health Service communicable disease center in Atlanta, Ga., credits the Texas State Health Department Bureau of Laboratories here with top score in national competition in identification of intestinal parasites.

Two grades were awarded during the evaluation studies which are designed to raise the standard of laboratory accuracy. One was for the ability to correctly identify Endamoeba Histolytica, an intestinal parasite; the other for a correct determination of the presence or absence of all intestinal organisms.

The report said the Texas laboratory had tied for first place with three other state health departments in the first test, and had won a clear title to top honors in the second.

Forty-two state and territorial laboratories competed in the year-long evaluation studies which began in July, 1949. The scores were announced last week.

Laboratories tying Texas in the first test could not be identified. Code numbers known only to the referee laboratories are used to designate the participants in the studies. Texas' code number was 13.

A total of 110 specimens were examined. Twelve specimens were eliminated from the study because even the experts at the referee laboratories could not agree on what organisms they contained.

The communicable disease center gave Texas' laboratory specialists a grade of 98.9 per cent on the first test, and 97.5 per cent on the second. No other laboratory in the United States proved to be so accurate, the report said.

Authorities at the State Department of Health said they have now begun intra-state laboratory evaluation studies, conducted on the same basis as are the national studies. In the intra-state examinations, laboratories operating within the state are tested for accuracy in determining what organisms are contained within a given specimen.

ATOMIC TESTS

N. Y. Indian Era Traced

ALBANY, N. Y.—American Indians inhabited New York state as long as 5,000 years ago, instead of the 2,000 years ago as previously estimated, according to the New York science service.

The announcement said hunting and fishing Indians were living in the state about 5,000 B.C., around the time the great pyramids on the Nile were built. The announcement was also described as one that would "revolutionize archeological thinking."

The new findings were made by scientists of the school for nuclear studies at the University of Chicago and resulted from measuring the amount of radioactivity remaining in samples of charcoal excavated from the fireplaces and cremation pits of the oldest-known Indian villages in the state. The measurement showed that the trees from which the charcoal came had died between 4,950 and 5,380 years ago.

New Method Used

The studies were based on an earlier finding that the "bombardment" of the atmosphere by cosmic rays created a natural radioactive form of carbon which is a part of the carbon dioxide in the air taken in by plants and animals. As long as these plants and animals are alive, this radioactive carbon is replenished, so that the amount in the body remains constant.

When the organism dies, no additional radioactive carbon is accumulated, and that which is present in the body begins to disintegrate at a constant rate. After 5,720 years, the evidence of this radioactive carbon is only one-half as strong as it is at the time of death.

With the aid of special instruments, scientists at Chicago University's nuclear studies school have been able to determine the amount of evidence of radioactive carbon in the remains of formerly living things such as charcoal, mummy cloth, basketry and seashells. Establishment of a ratio of this radioactive evidence to the amount present in the living body makes it possible to determine how long ago the living thing actually died.

Nomadic People

Samples of charcoal taken from fireplaces found in the village sites of the oldest-known Indian groups in the state and similar samples from cremation pits used by the first Indians to become acquainted with agriculture were sent to the researchers.

These earliest-known "New Yorkers" were bant of nomadic hunting and fishing people, according to the state science service. Later, their descendants acquired a knowledge of agriculture and the art of pottery making. Their mode of life became more complex, finally to be inherited by the historic Indian tribes of the state.

Average American Spends More on Auto Than Rent

CHICAGO, Ill.—The average American bread-winner spends more money on the family car each year than he does on rent.

That may be one reason so many people have trouble balancing the family budget.

But Dean Keefer, head of the safety engineering department of Lumbermens Mutual Casualty company, reports that there are at least two ways to save money on your car operation.

One good way is to watch the speed of your driving. On a thousand mile trip, he says, you can save $12.22 by averaging 45 miles an hour instead of 55. You can save $19.36 by driving 35 miles an hour instead of 55. Lower per mile gas consumption is the reason.

Keefer's other money-saving recommendation is to make repairs promptly. He says it can be very expensive in the long run to postpone them. Faulty brakes, bad steering gear, etc. get worse the longer they are neglected, he points out, and by not fixing them promptly you are not only increasing your eventual repair bill, you are also inviting a costly accident.

Modern Classroom Seating Plan Puts Damper on Pranks

DALLAS, Texas—It's going to be tough for mischievous Johnny to get by with any pranks in the modern classroom.

School designers have discovered that the best seating arrangement places the teacher at the rear of the room, behind the pupils who face the chalkboard in front, says R. L. Biese, Jr., head of the department of electrical engineering at Southern Methodist university.

The main objective of this arrangement is to give every pupil a fair break and eliminate "areas of high brightness in the visual field," Professor Biese pointed out in a report to Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company.

It has another advantage, however. It makes for better discipline, since pupils don't know whether teacher is looking or not.

After several years of research Professor Biese determined that desks should be set in curves, rather than in straight lines, for best distribution of daylight through larger windows.

Doctors asked to support opponents of health insurance plan.

Soviet Propaganda Pictures Football As Murder, Mayhem

WASHINGTON — Soviet propaganda is in constant search for some phase of American life to ridicule. The latest is a picture of American football as a carnival of murder and mayhem.

The Soviet radio also doesn't like American lady wrestlers or macaroni eating contests.

According to radio Moscow all these things are part of a capitalist plot to whip the toiling masses into a "bestial" frame of mind for World War III.

As a horrible example, the radio cites conditions at the University of Michigan, where, it says:

"Players are often carried from the football field to the hospital or even straight to the cemetery."

Football promoters in the United States are so profit-hungry that they are trying to turn every game into a fight, the Moscow radio said.

"Football players are forced obediently to carry out the orders of their bosses under the threat of unemployment," the radio said. "For the men who treat sport as a money-making proposition, people's health and lives are of no concern."

Nothing like that exists in the glorious sports world of the Soviet Union, listeners were assured.

The athlete in the United States is just the tool of the Wall Street bosses.

"Let the people become used to seeing death," the Russian announcement explained. "Let them learn to attack each other. This is the reasoning of the business men. After this training, it will be easier to send them to the shambles."

The Moscow listener got this word picture of a women's wrestling match:

"Two women enter the ring and start pummeling each other. This lasts until one of them faints. The spectators of this barbarous affair are few, but they pay well, and this is just what the profiteers want."

"Do You Have a Maid?" Booklet Social Security

Do you employ a domestic worker in your home, such as a maid, butler, cook, gardener, or chauffeur? If so, you may soon be an employer under social security. The amended Social Security Act brings regularly employed domestic workers under this insurance system effective January 1, 1951. A domestic worker is considered to be a regularly employed if he works for one person on 24 separate days in a calendar quarter and earns at least $50 in cash wages during the quarter. Generally speaking, this would mean that the domestic who works for one person on the average of two days per week would be covered under the amended law. Further, it means that you will not be concerned with this new provision if you have a person who works for you only one day a week, or less than 24 days per calendar quarter. Does all this sound complicated? Well, it really isn't. The Treasury

Department and the Social Security Administration, working jointly, have just issued a brief booklet telling the few simple steps for you and your household worker to take. It includes a postal card for getting instructions about the easy-to-fill-out report form. The title of this booklet is "Do You Have a Maid?". Copies of this booklet have been mailed to your local postmaster. If he has not received his supply, you can obtain a copy by writing the social security office, Amarillo, and asking for the booklet. "Do You Have a Maid?"
